GENERAL

*the place

 Student definitions: "Where it's at." "No Way! I'm not going to think about such things!" "A place where you are required to attend until you are sixteen and longer if your parents make you." "US Grant." All definitions of the Place — US Grant.

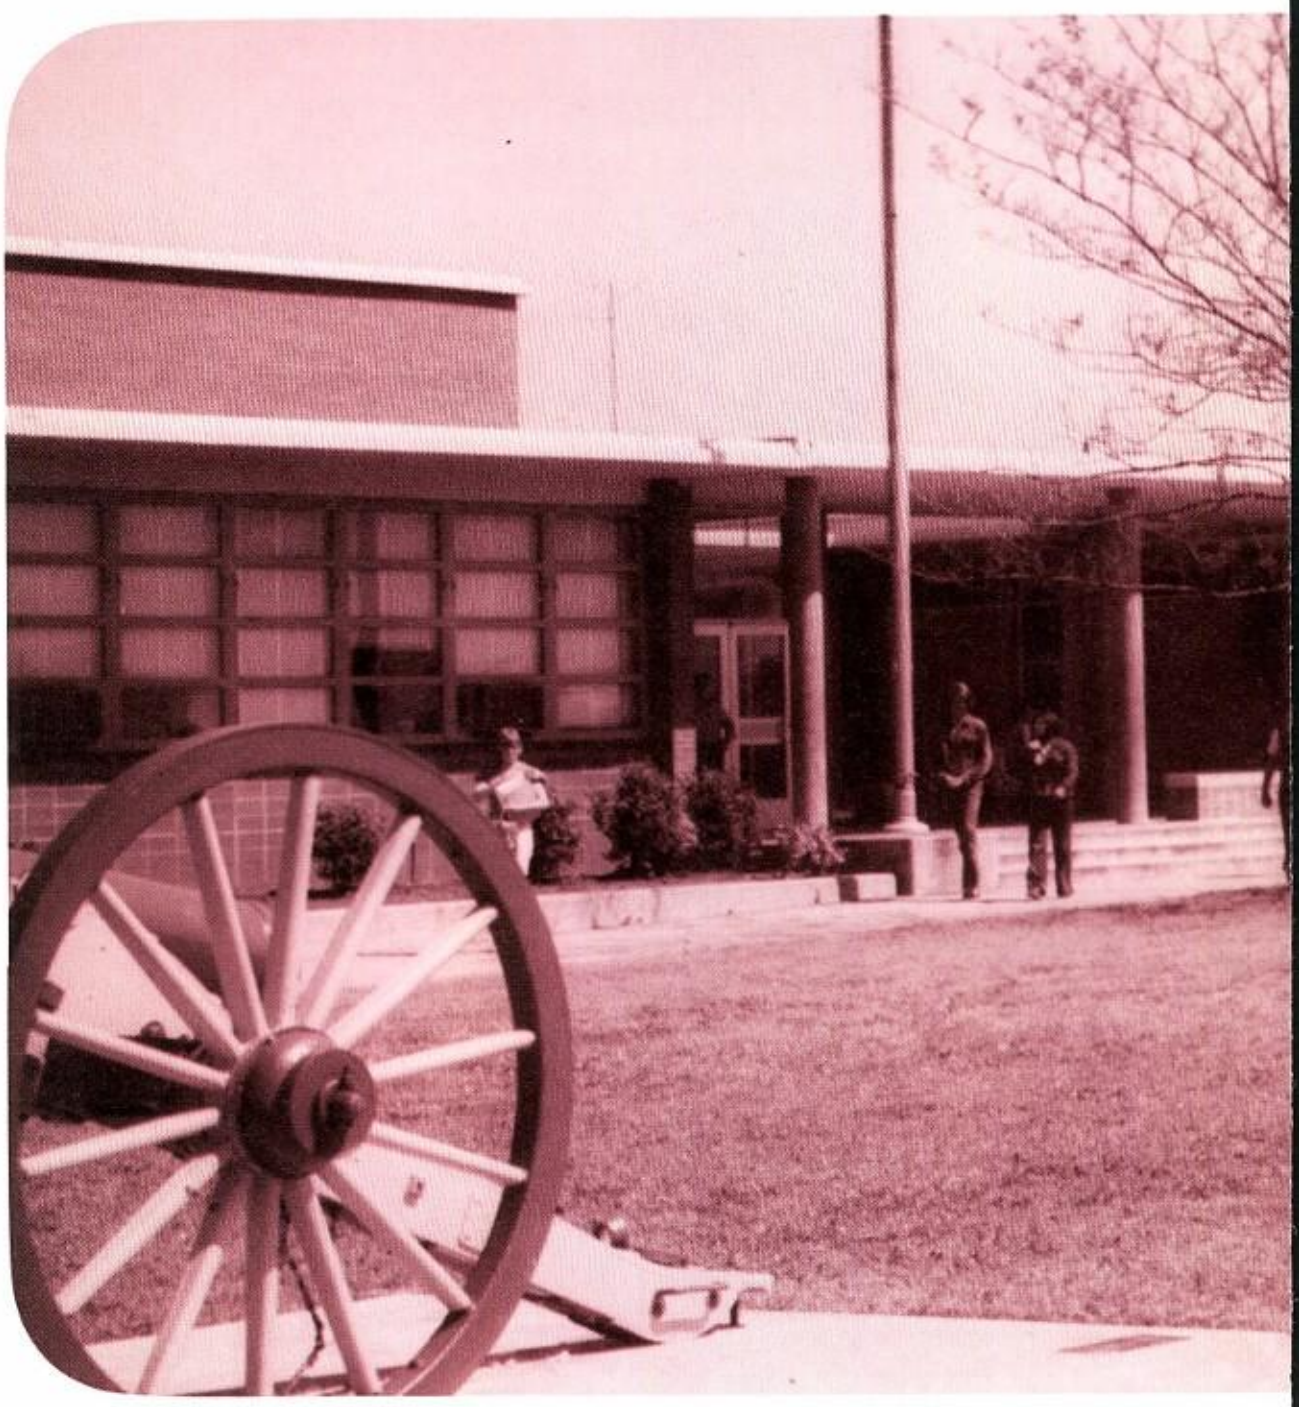
What more can you say about a place that is both loved and hated, admired and scorned, cherished and destroyed? So much to be offered, yet one must be willing to take it all in or it is all in vain.

This book is about this place, this year — all the joys and triumphs and fun and love and the failures and losses and work and hatred that have made this year what it is.



The candy and Coke machines sometimes are the most popular place. "The Place" empties out fast at 3:35. A long line at the phone is a permanent picture. The buses are all a part of "The Place." Trying to figure out their new schedules are Russell Lorrette and Allen Shamblin.

DeAnn Whitnah gets prepared to ski. DeAnn gets up, skis for awhile, and goes back down with a splash. Doug Roberson enjoys his freedom by sleeping in late on summer mornings. Thoroughly enjoying a good hotdog is Laura Hagey.

 "Freedom's just another word for nothing left to lose, and nothing ain't worth nothing, but it's free!" "Freedom is just, well it's just FREE!" And that's the way the Generals see the feeling of freedom — whether it be a freedom of the mind, the soul, the spirit, or a physical freedom — freedom from responsibility, from society; from the feeling of restraint that school lends during its tenure. Skiing, boating, swimming, sunbathing or just plain messing around dominated the summer scene for many of the Generals. And isn't that really what freedom is all about?

Four square is a very popular game during lunch. Often seen shooting ice in the cafeteria is Paul Heath. Renee Wood enjoys cutting Jasselle Stewart's hair during class. Engaging in a little girl watching is Darryl Reynolds. Eric Simpson tries to make his teacher think he is studying.

 KICKS — "The pep club at football games." "Fifties' Day." "The pep assemblies." All a part of the Kicks — fun at school. Many people get their fun at school in their own original ways; for instance, "Trying to make the teacher think I am awake and working." "Seeing how many termites crawl out of the walls in one hour." "Watching girls." All people get their fun in different ways at school; some methods more widely used than others, but all enjoyed equally.

 "The courses that you are required to take." "The hard courses that you have to take." The classes offered at Grant this year were hard core — there's no doubt about that! As in past years, one year of math is required after your freshman year, a science is required, an English credit is required each semester. Among the hard core courses are geometry, trigonometry, matrix, analytics, calculus, American literature, English literature, and biology. Other courses were available at South cluster schools. The Generals, as usual, pulled through, however miraculously, with a relatively small percentage of failures.

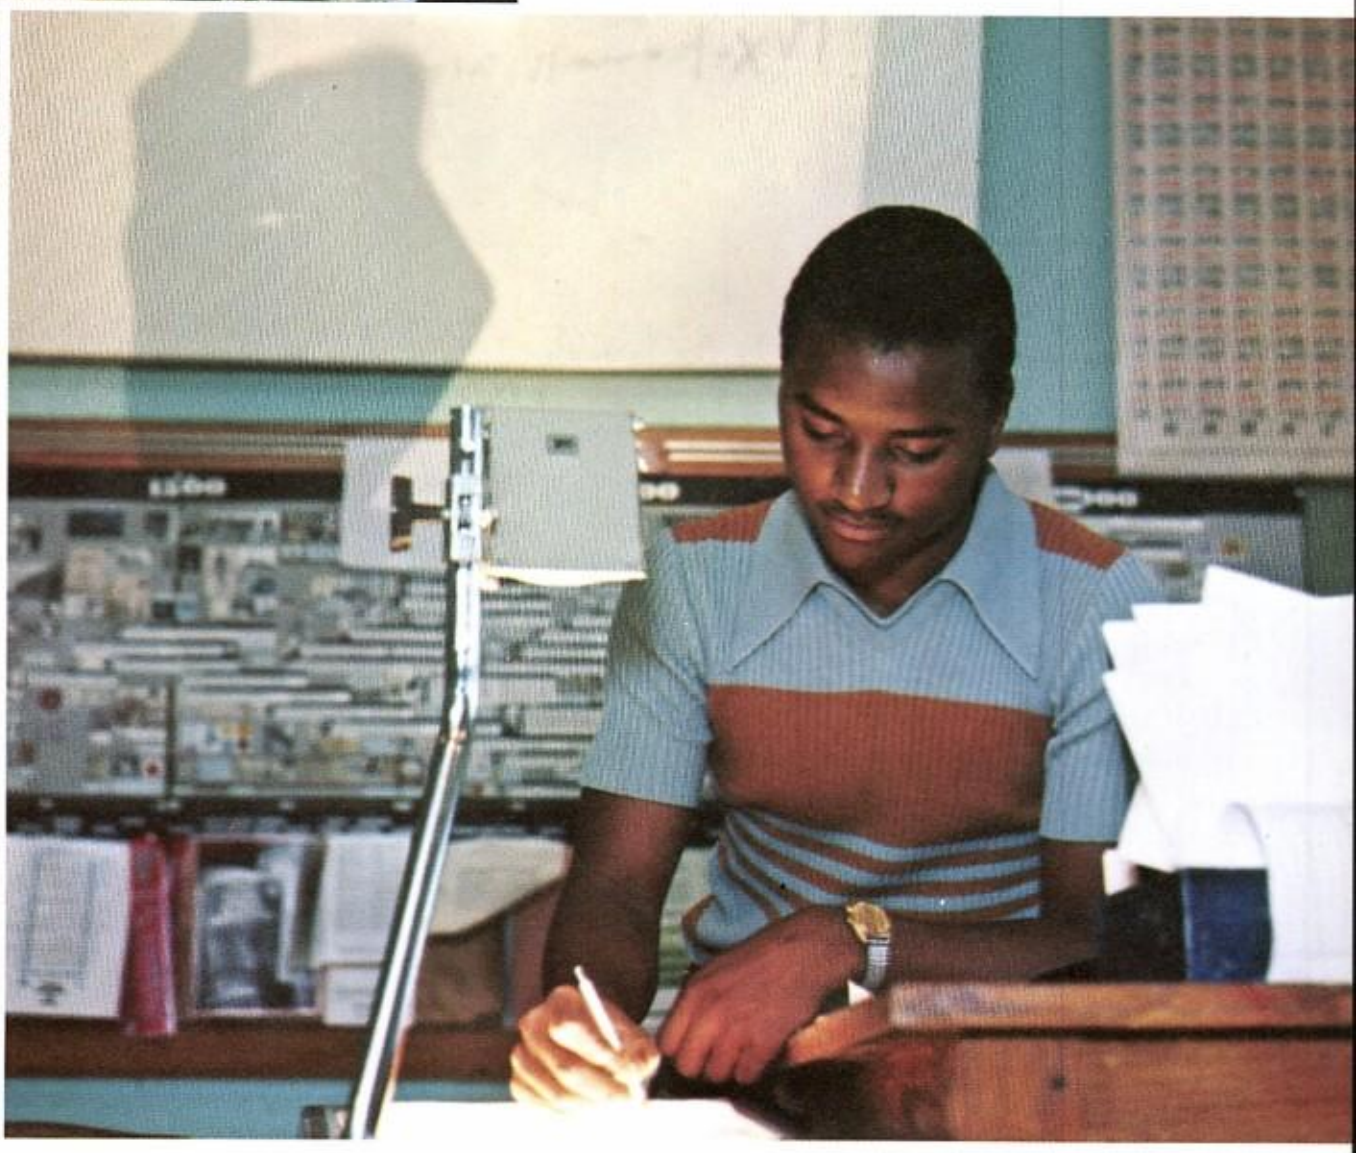
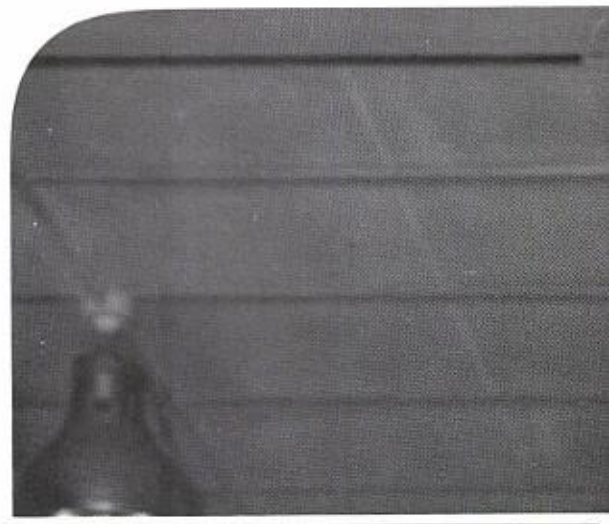
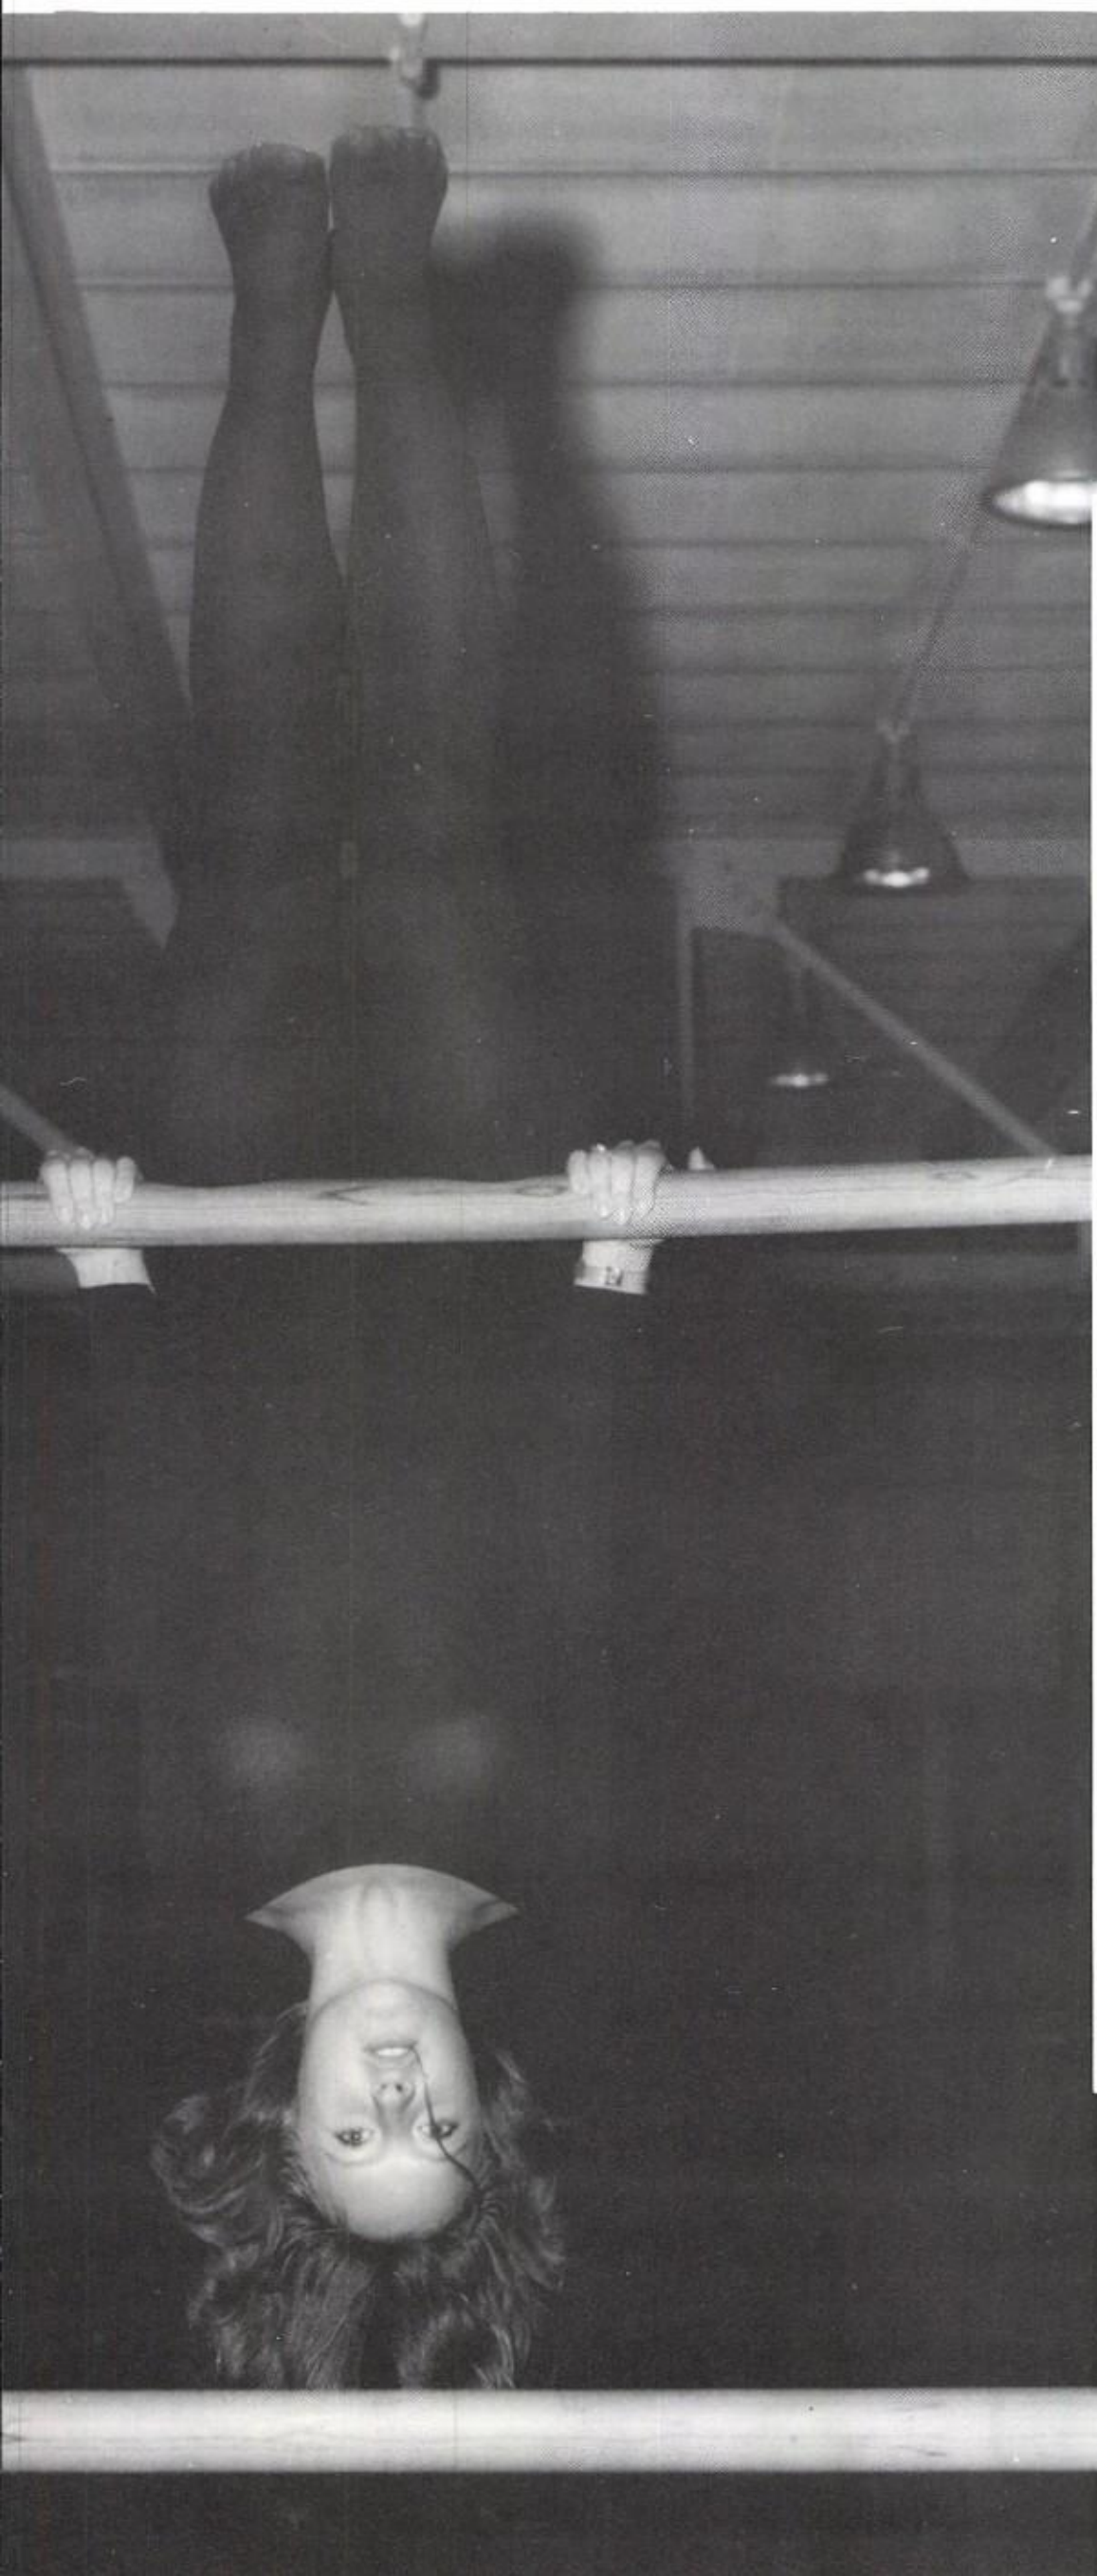
Kerry Kendrix enjoys playing basketball in gym. John Judd and Teri Ratzlaff discuss the Globe Theatre for their English class. Working out the problems for math is Homer Dade. Betty Cassity studies for upcoming history test.



*Soft Core

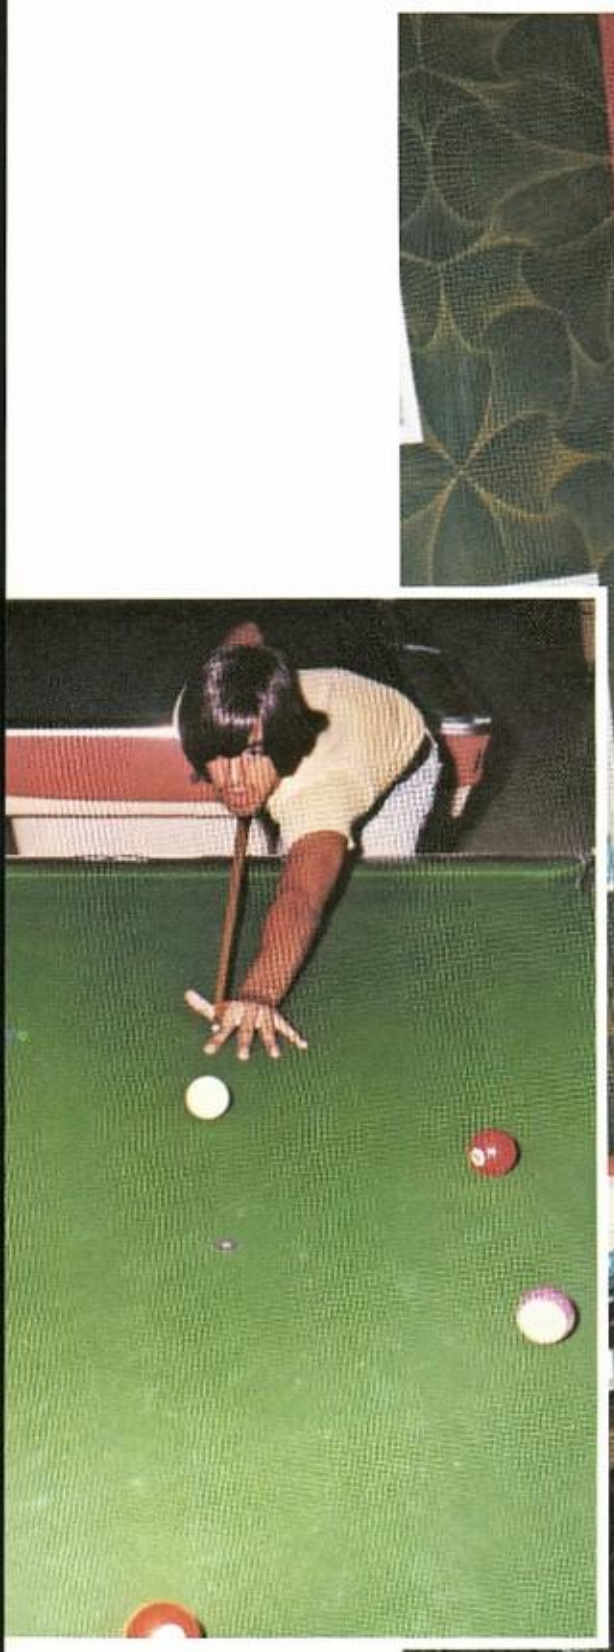


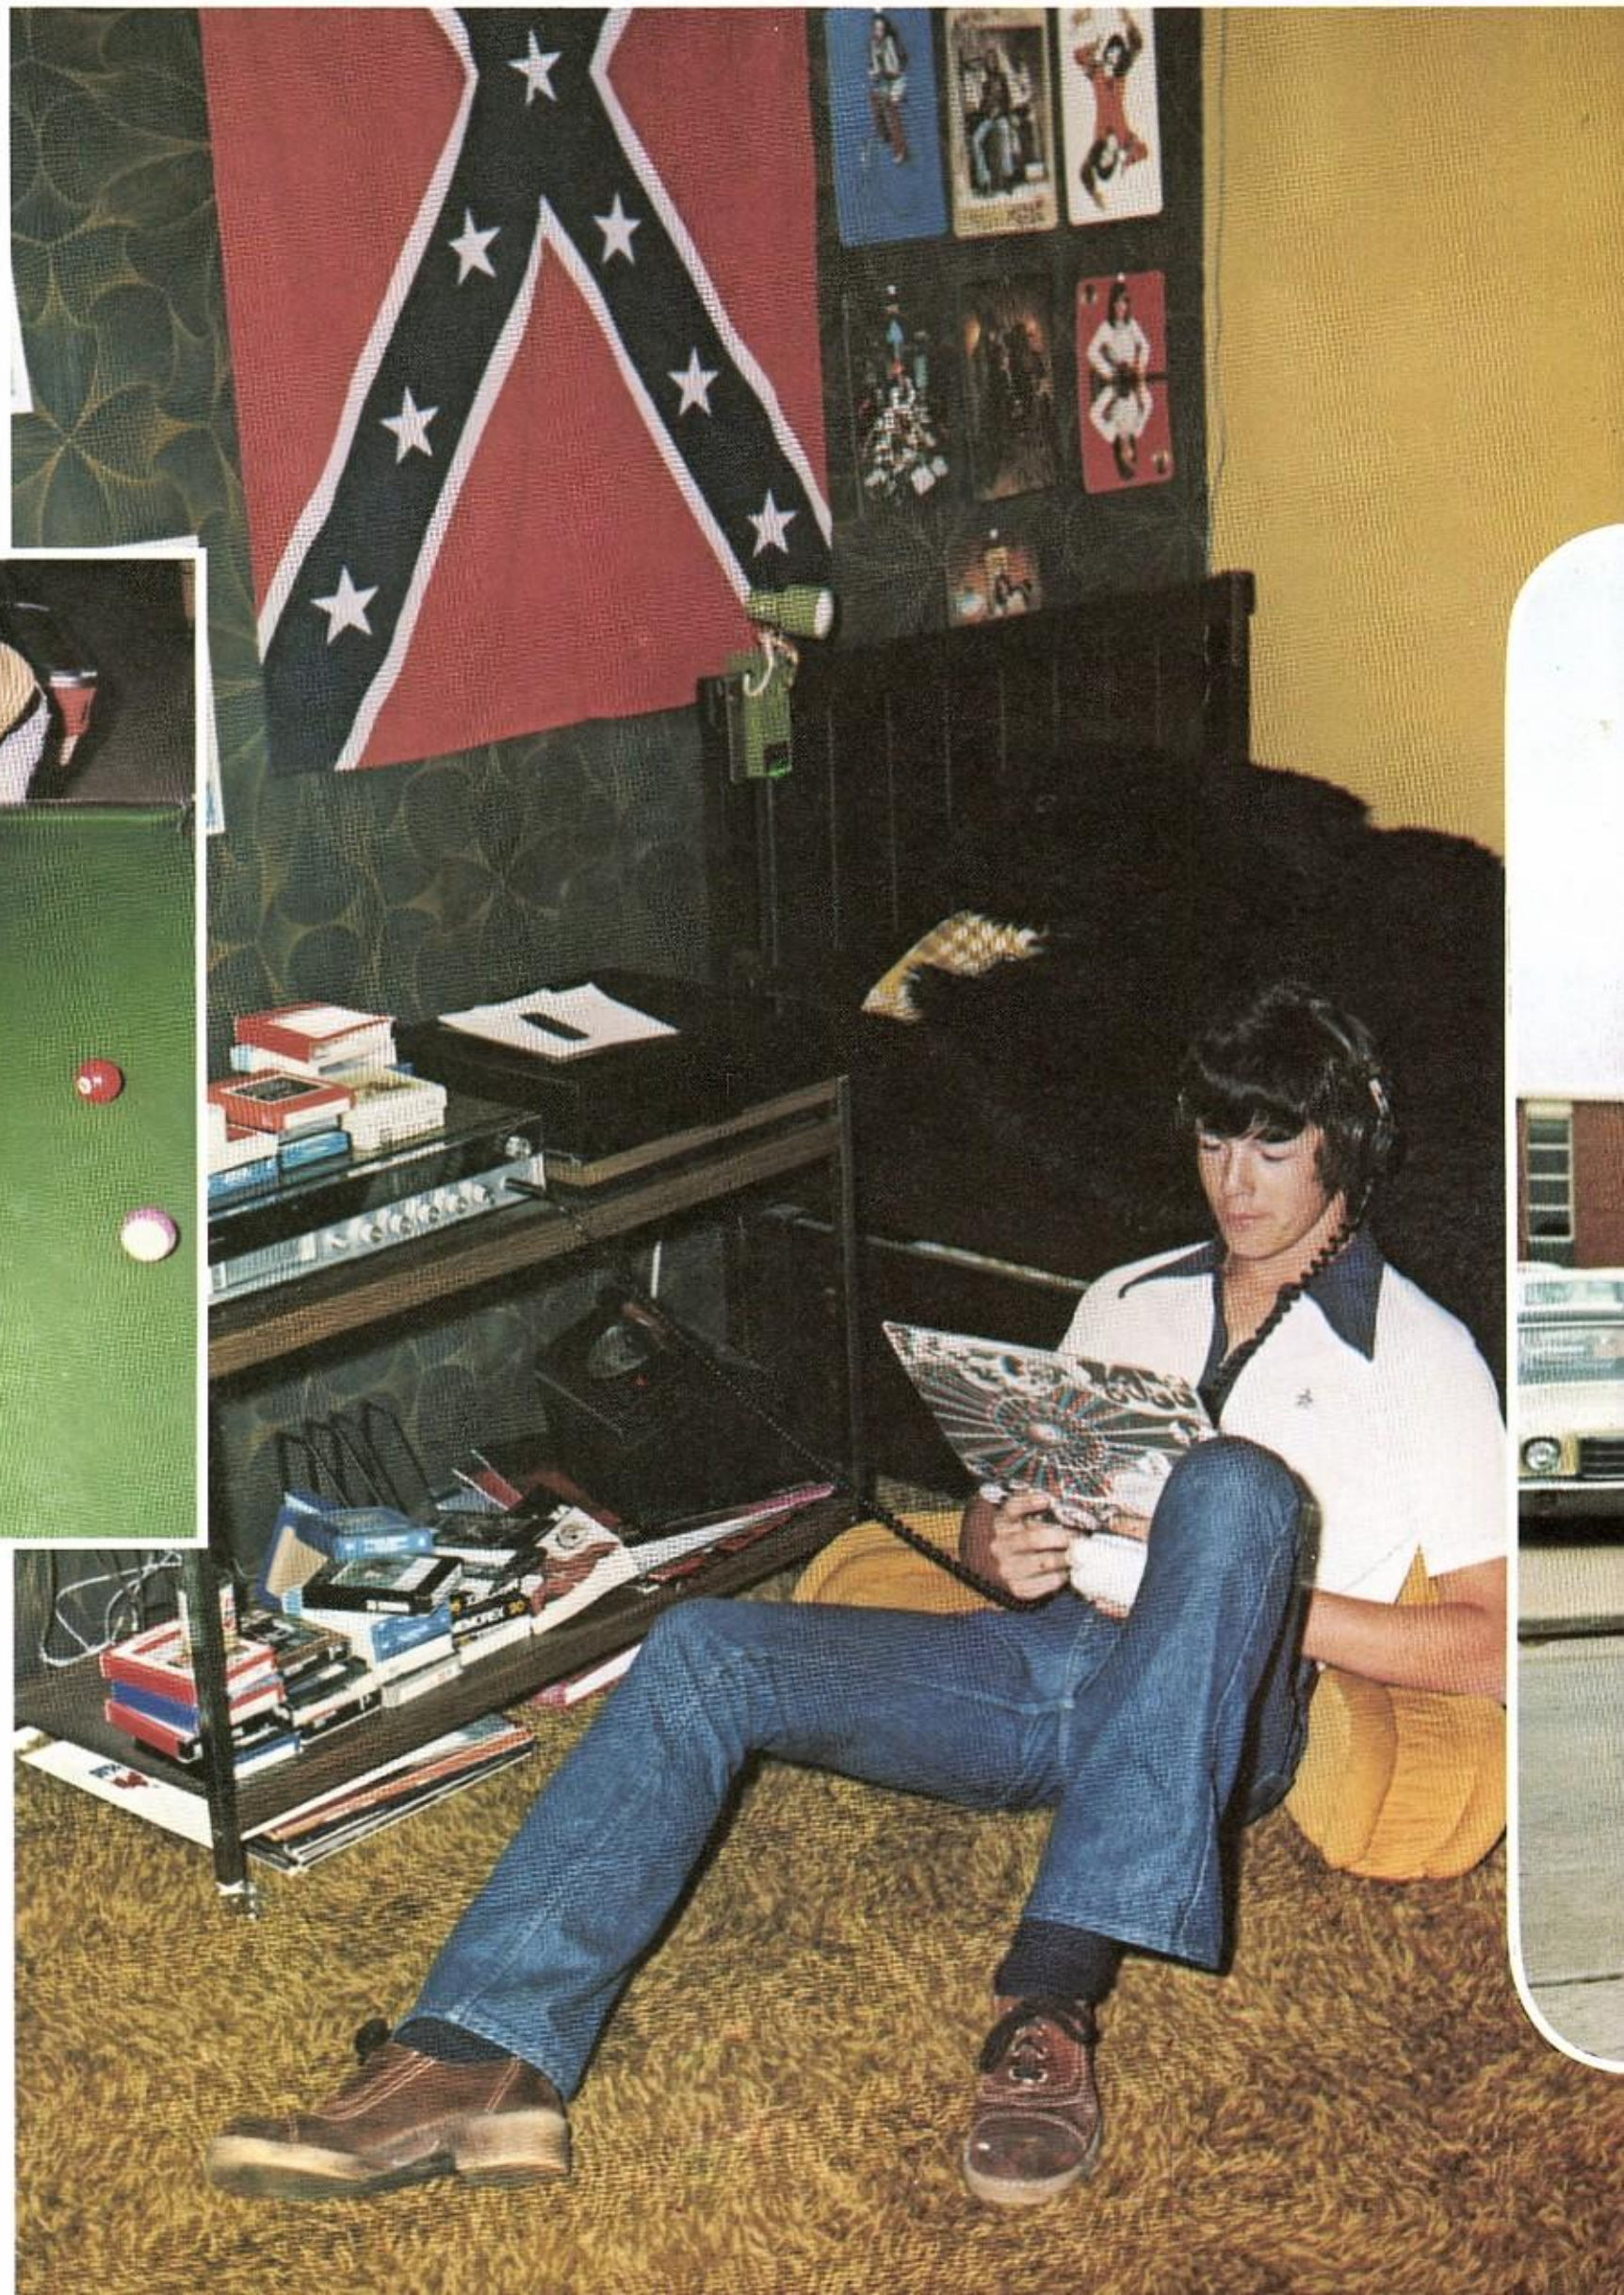
* "The fun courses." "The things you can take that aren't required." "The classes that you don't have to take that aren't too hard." "Mostly my math classes." And so go the definitions for that strangely beautiful word — elective. The list begins with things such as auto mechanics and ends exactly where you want it to end. The classes can be interesting, like psychology or mass media, or informative, like problems of democracy. They can include calculus or they can include arts and crafts. The variety is what makes an education interesting.



Bobby Bayers, Melody Keesee, Jesselle Stewart and Doris Stevens run a rat through a maze for psychology. Darla Story works with children in her child guidance class. Pam Cambell is flipped out in gymnastics. Being creative in arts and crafts is Anna Blake.

Pretending to be Minnesota Fats is Richard Alvarado. Enjoying his new Emerson, Lake and Palmer album is Lloyd Tinsley. Gentlemen, start your engines. — And they're off! Sonny Taylor in the lead; Allan Cambell trailing.





*natural HIGH

 "The way that I feel when I am with my friends." "When I am helping others, that's how I get my natural high." "When you're up on life, that's really a natural high." Natural high — the way you feel about life, the things that make you feel really good without any artificial means. The way that things make your life fuller, make you a complete person. Natural high, the feeling that you get when you draw your strength from the crowd around you. "I get high just knowing that somewhere someone loves me."

Friends often gather together in large groups. Linda Jackson and Scott Brewer enjoy watching a late movie together. Having friend Kathy McCoy along doesn't make decisions any easier for Debbie Phillips. Gary Newby and Duane George look on Senior bulletin board for upcoming activities. Cooking together are Johana Burditt and Kristy Kendrix. Sonny Taylor and Terry Allred get together to work on a car as Scott Brewer looks on.

*HO MO SAPIENS

 "Homo What?!!!!!" "Man" "I think it is the scientific name for something." Homo Sapiens, Man, the ultimate animal.

We all are men. Or are we? What is a man? It is an animal, but a man has something more. A man has a spirit, a soul that is far more complex than any animal. Man is a civil being, at least most people are. But, does not being civil make one any less a man than another? Surely someone can answer these questions.

"People who make the headlines." "The people that are high up in government." Headliners. And, boy howdy, has this been a year for them! An historical resignation of the president, the inauguration of a new one, the gubernatorial election, international news. Kissinger, Nixon, Ford, Hall, Boren, Inhofe. All this in only one year's time. It all seems so unreal sometimes, yet is real.

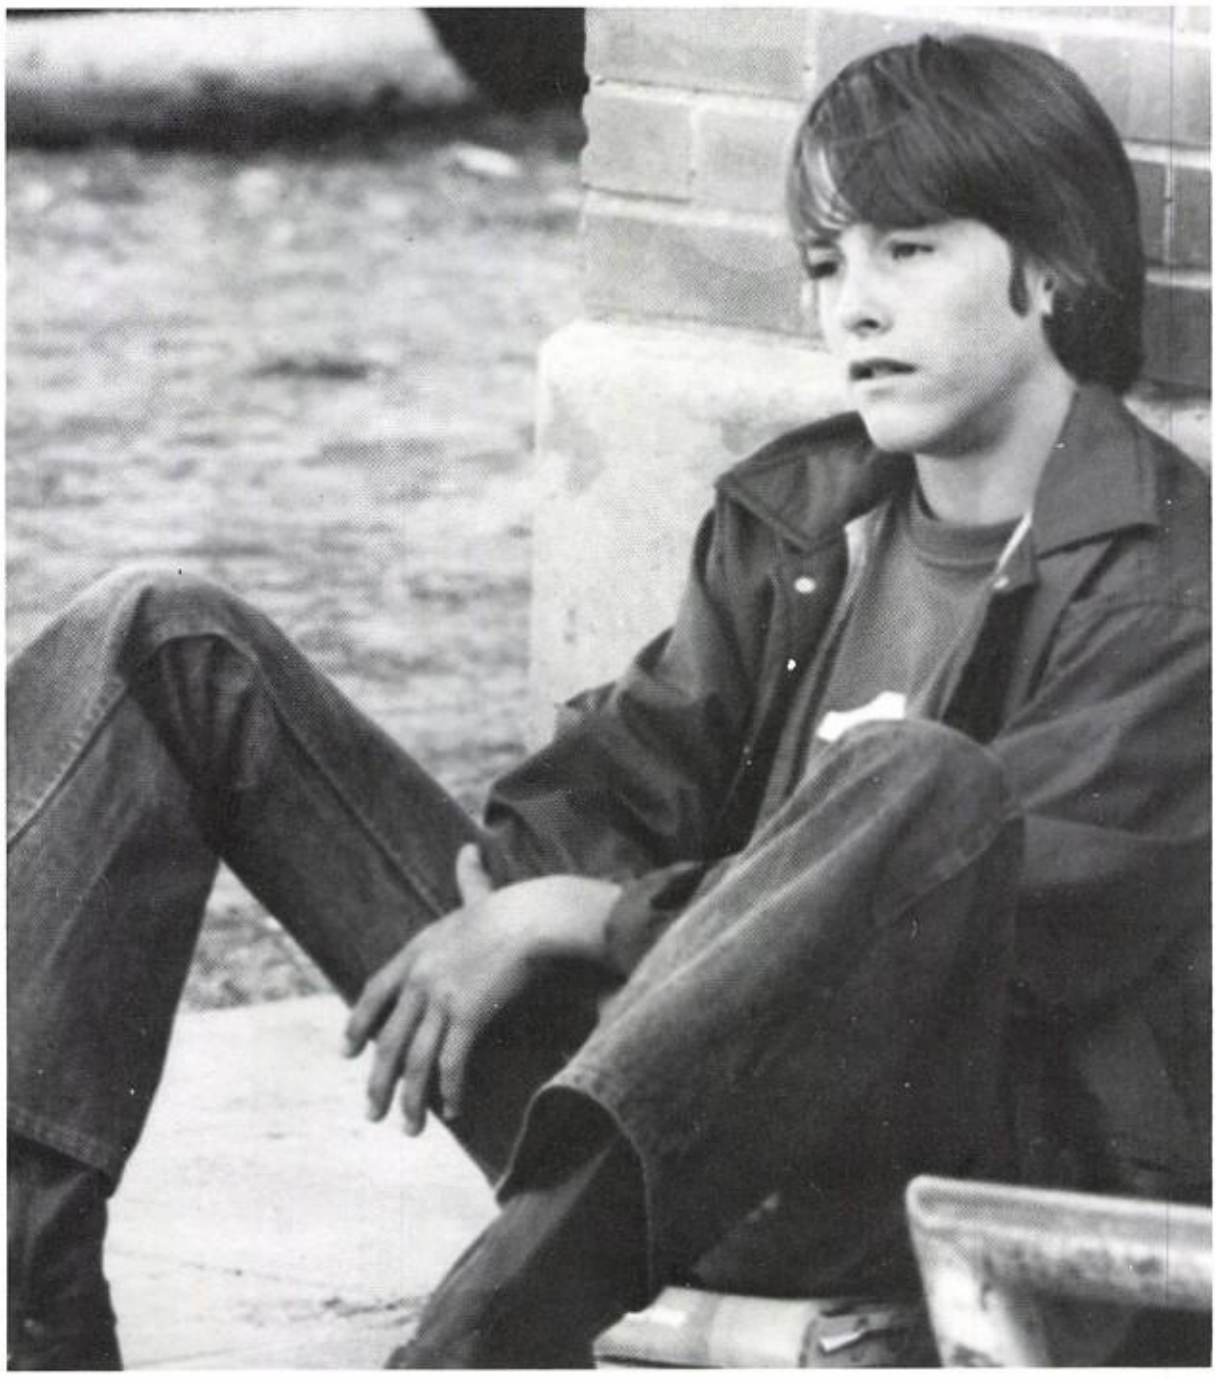
We are living history. We should always try to remember the way that we feel now, when the turmoil is on (for historical reasons, of course,) and to help us see how things can be worse in future times.

Former President Nixon makes last guest appearance. Grant students display enthusiasm toward their candidate or governor. Students watch on during a racial disturbance. Excited at seeing her favorite group at Oklahoma Jam is Kathy Williams. Depressed at thinking about the future of his school is Kevin Hubble.

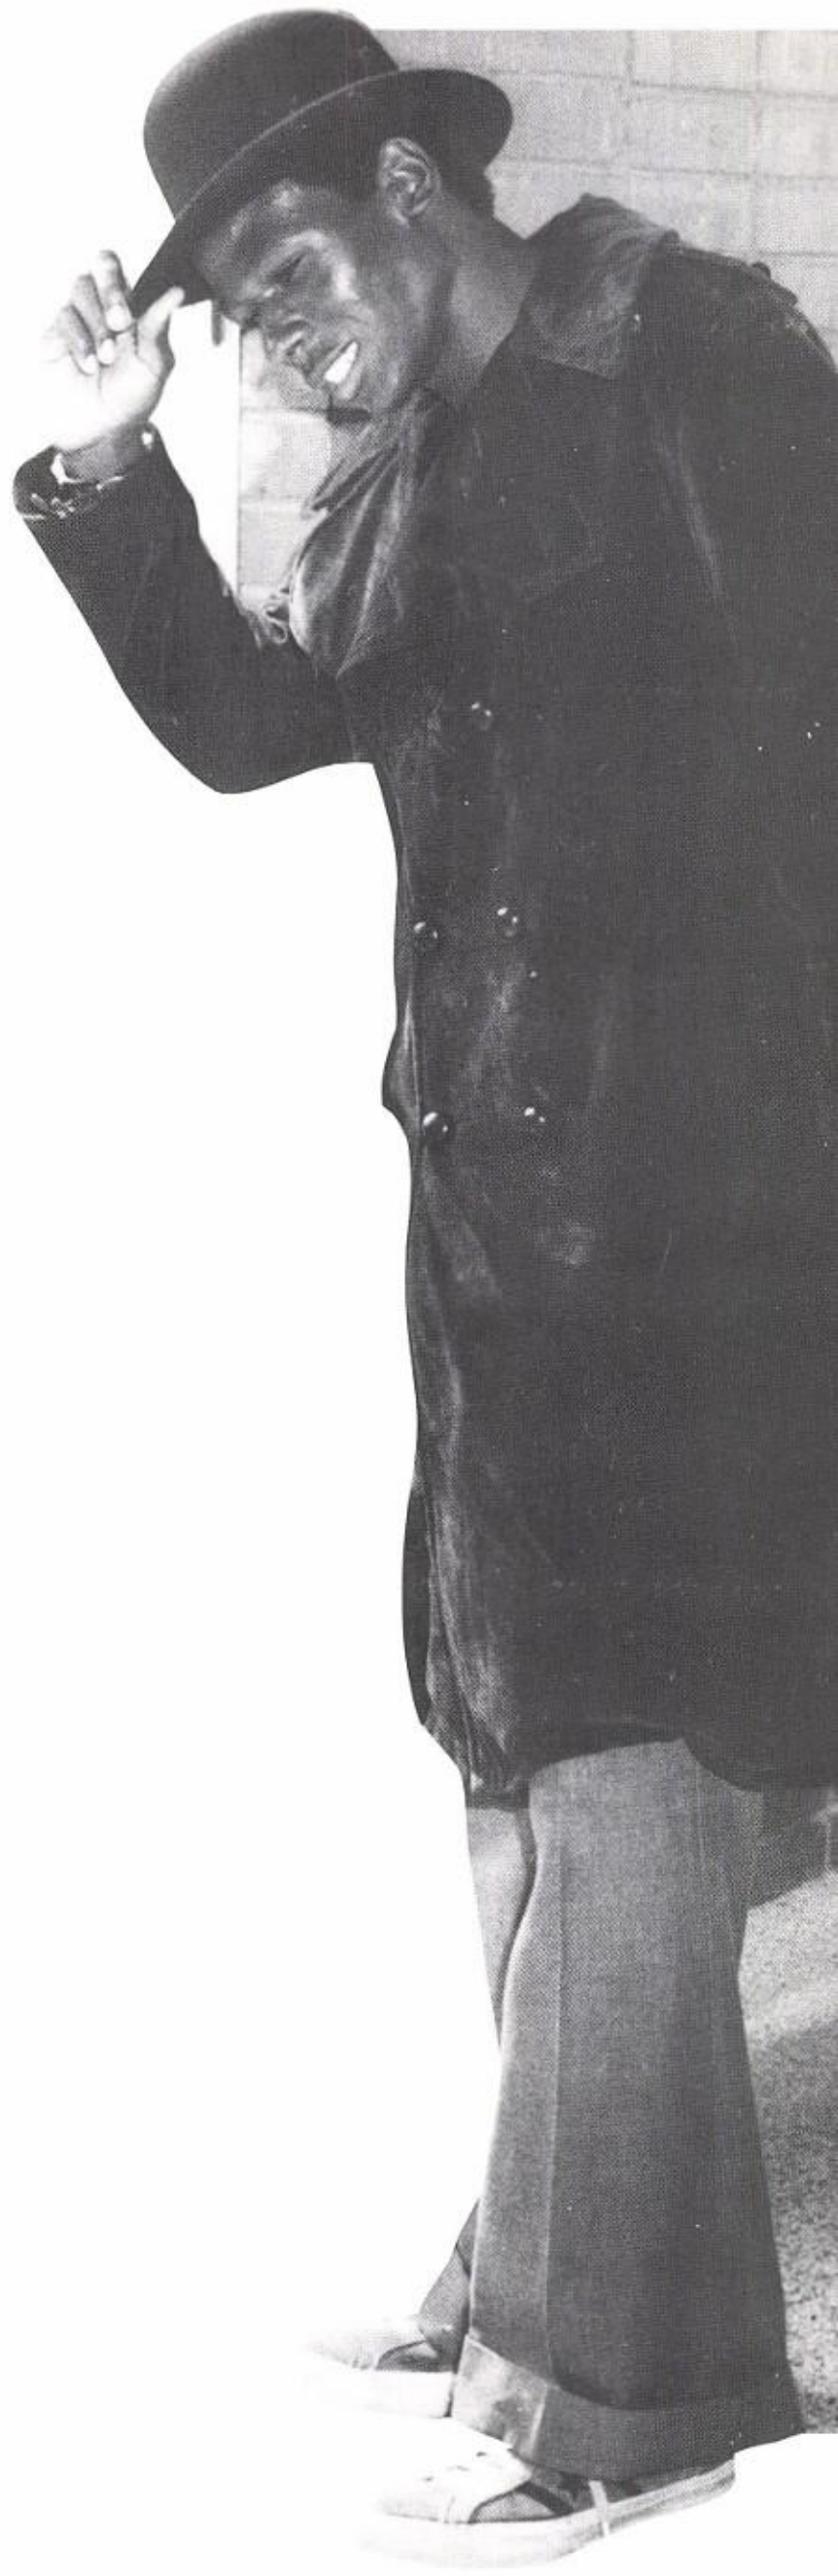


People. They come in all shapes and sizes, all sorts and colors, young, old, even middle aged. People can be joy or pain, trouble and solvers of trouble, the end, the beginning, the all that everything is. People make the earth interesting, make the world warm, make the land and civilization what it is today.

And now people are in a book to keep the memories of people alive for many years to come. So that the people that are here now will never really be forgotten.

Mrs. Evelyn Shelley does a little pirate dance. The end of a long day. Mr. Bob McCain minds the terminal. Carla George sees only Steve Garrette on the field. Wendell Webb tries a little two-step dancing in the halls.

People



Once upon a time there was a man who had a fine home. One day the king made a decree that the man had to give up his home and move to another place. Now this man was probably not happy about the king's decree, but when the king speaks, he is obeyed by all who hear what he has to say. So the man took all his possessions and left all the friends and neighbors that he had and moved to the place the king had provided for him.

Now the man was met by the usual problems such a move could make. There were people who tried to go against what the man said, and then there were those who misunderstood what the man meant, and tried to undermine his true purposes.

Now the man was also encountered by people who welcomed him and helped him to adjust to the new environment that his new home presented. All in all, the man did very well in the beginning. But as in all fairy tales, no one really knows the results.

Now obviously the Federal Court system is not king and Mr. J. A. Diggs was not asked to give up his home, but he had been at Douglass for 27 years and that's a pretty good hunk of a lifetime to be ripped out by one motion of a judge's gavel. Mr. Diggs has had his problems this first year, but all things being considered, he has handled his change in administration. At least he didn't ask the government for $800,000 in change-of-life funds!

'My class ring is really the most beautiful one in the world.'
'No such luck, chump. My ring has got you beat so bad that you'll never get up.'

Cathy Proctor is showing her spirit. Concentrating on things to come is Annie Arambula. The ring — symbol of things to come. Wishing in senior hall is Patricia Raber.

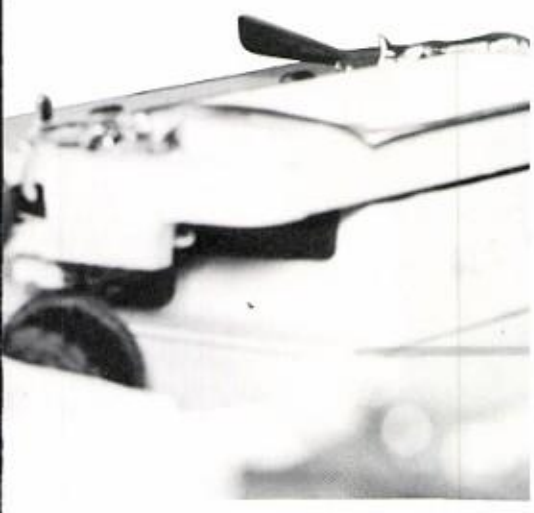
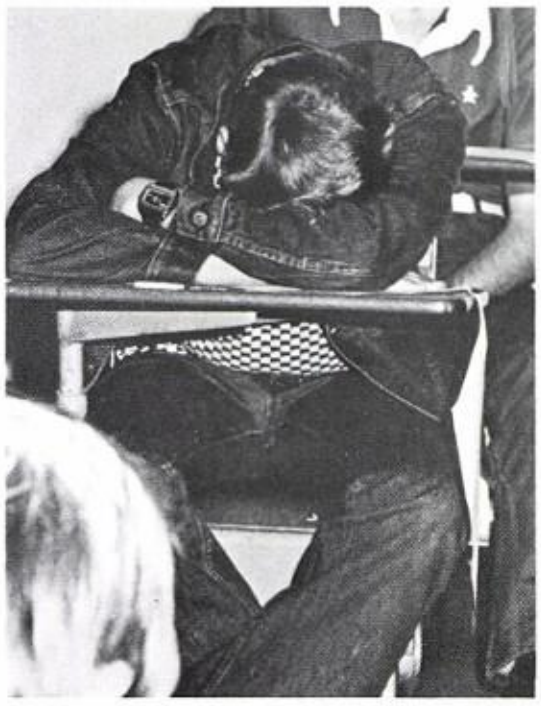
Curriculum is the meal that the schools feed the minds. The subjects that are required and even those that aren't present a menu that only tempts the taste buds, that only appetizes the mind, only gives a taste of what can be discovered if you give the mind a chance to just begin to satisfy itself.

Curriculum



*language arts



Palatable courses in language arts change department

Language arts is a set of classes that is surprisingly palatable despite some "stiff and formal" classes. Quite a variety of classes is available for juniors and seniors. Among those offered are cinematography, yearbook, novel, protest literature, and several other classes for which English credit may be earned. Also there are the basic grammar classes, available to all who wish to be just a little bit more perfect. Several classes in literature complete the course offerings.

Ricky Staton receives his new ID card from the National Honor Society helpers Joe Bob Wright and Melody Trail. Walter Johnson's pastime is sleeping in his English class. Daryl Elrod and Bruce Irick learn the art of film making in cinematography. Problems arise when junior high girls go out with big men on campus in Human Relations role play.

* "I use not only the brains I have, but all that I can borrow."

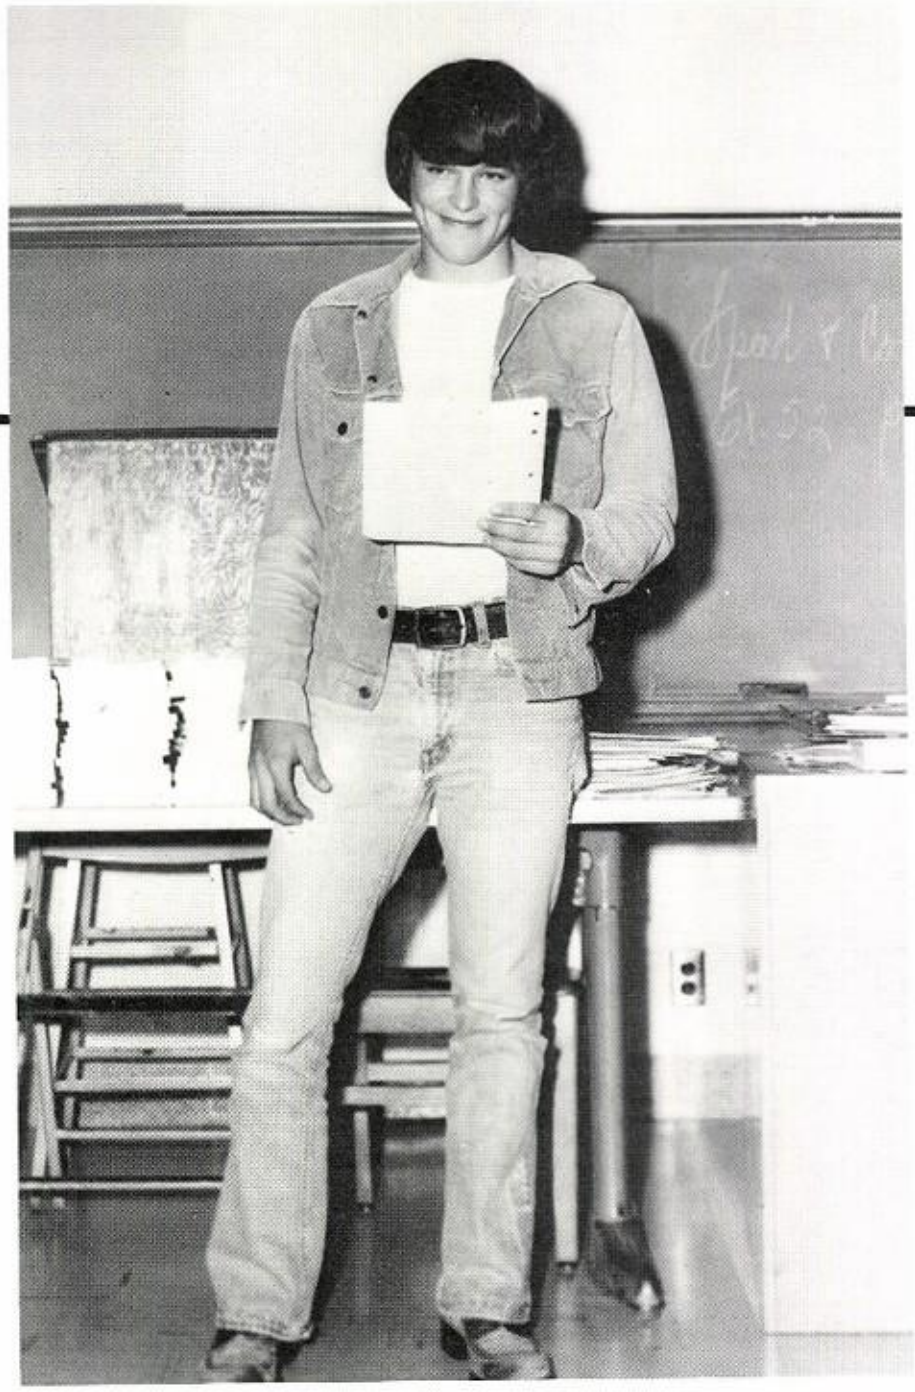
— Woodrow Wilson



Traditional vein yields to selection of English class

Freshmen and sophomores are required to take basic English and grammar for two years. However, at the end of those two years, any language arts subject may be taken, or the traditional American Literature or English Literature may be taken. If the option is taken not to take this, then one credit in speech must be earned, either in speech, debate, drama, or radio and television.

Journalism is also a popular class for English credit. Journalism I is an introductory course, which covers basic fundamentals of writing methods and the theory of newspaper and yearbook/magazine work. Two staff classes make up the publications crew.

* Temper is a valuable possession — don't lose it.

— Buffalo News

Music exotic dish for gourmet menu, tranquilize beasts

Music is alleged to calm the savage beast, but for many students it is another credit to add to their transcript. Band is a big class, having about 100 members and being much in demand at football games, basketball games, and other demanding social events. Orchestra, on the other hand, has much competition in organized contest, not unlike a classical battle of the bands.

Adding a bit to the gourmet menu are the choir and glee clubs. Having these voices blending in sounds should be reserved for those who are really connoisseurs of the music.

Gene Moon and Mark Wilson didn't expect to get caught by Mr. Thomas as they take their daily break at the water fountain. Jessele Stewart knows that the only way to sing is open your mouth WIDE!!! Kay Thompson practices her singing while Kent Newton plays the piano. The Southwest Corner Casino is finally busted by Mr. John Fuller. Russell Moss leads the band in the homecoming parade.

History curriculum spiced with touch of 'mod potpourri'

Social studies. Makes you think of charming afternoons in fifth grade wondering why Christopher Columbus wanted to know where America was any way. Now as a sophisticated high school student, it takes on the form of Oklahoma and US history. But there are other social studies classes offered, including psychology, sociology, anthropology, and problems of democracy. These add color to an otherwise bland diet of history and government classes.

*business education

Business courses encourage interest in job training

Business education is a facet of curriculum that can be both fun and useful. Many of the projects, such as the Cooperative Office Education (COE) program, allow students to do real office work while staying in school.

Another project of the business department is the Distributive Education program, which teaches sales and marketing methods to all the students in that class.

Of course, basic business classes are still available, including accounting, bookkeeping, typing, shorthand, and data processing. Other less common classes, however, seem to be very popular.

"I know that card is in there somewhere," says Cecilia Sharpe as she files for clerical practice. "I saw that key a minute ago," says Terri Todd in Typing I. "The answer I'm looking for should be about here," says Glenda Rhodes in her business machines class. Karen Blethrow finds that shorthand isn't as difficult as it looks.

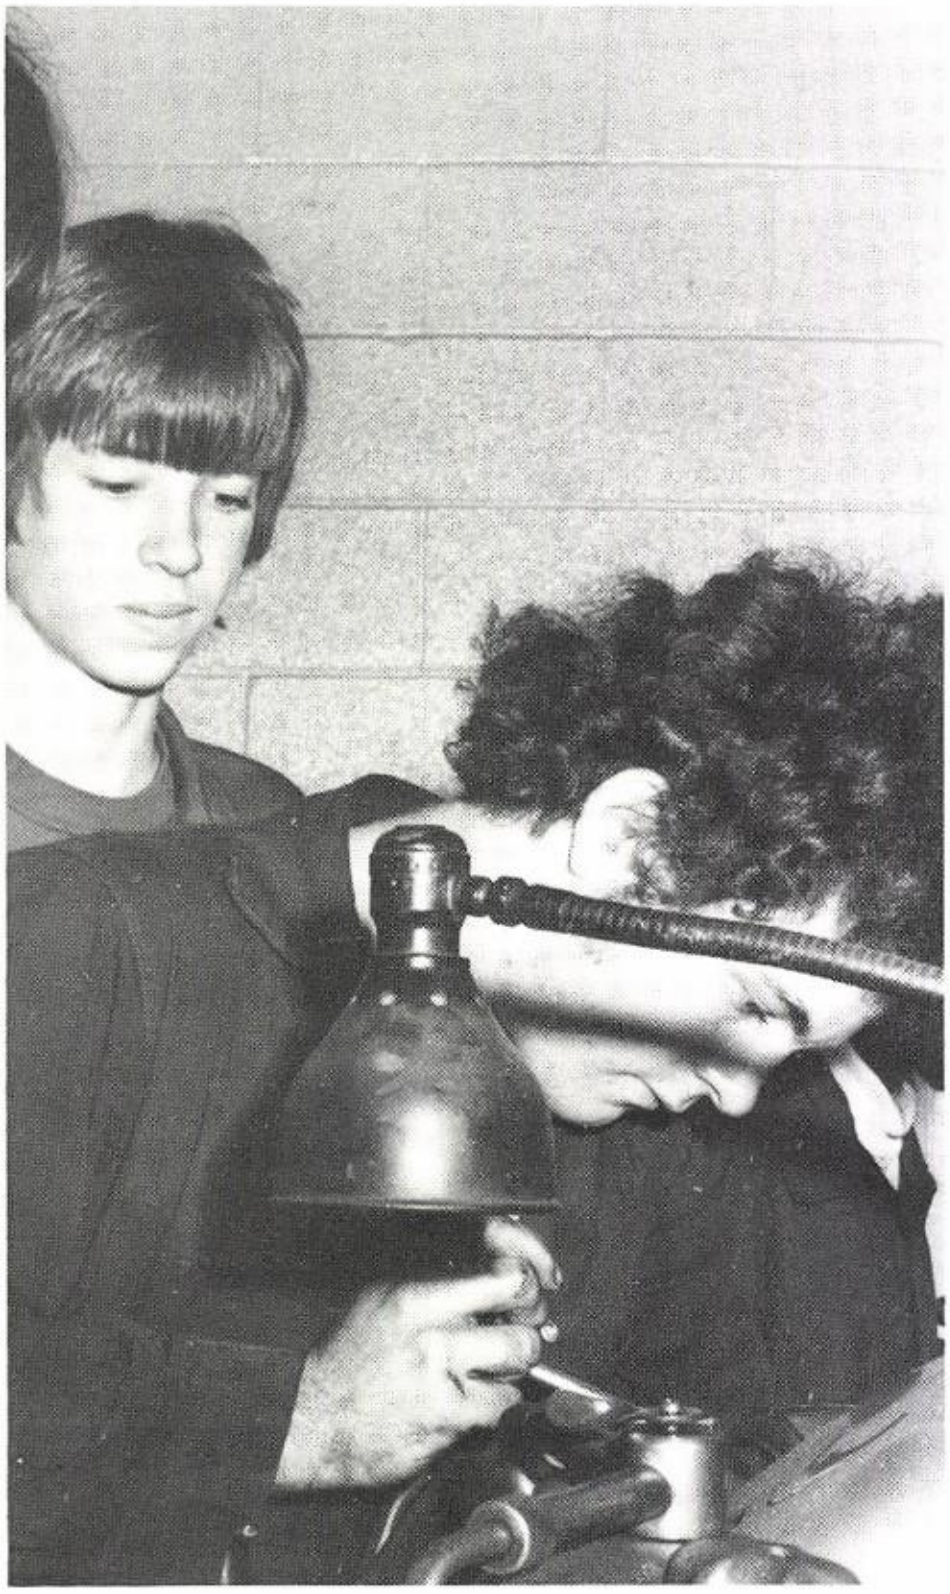
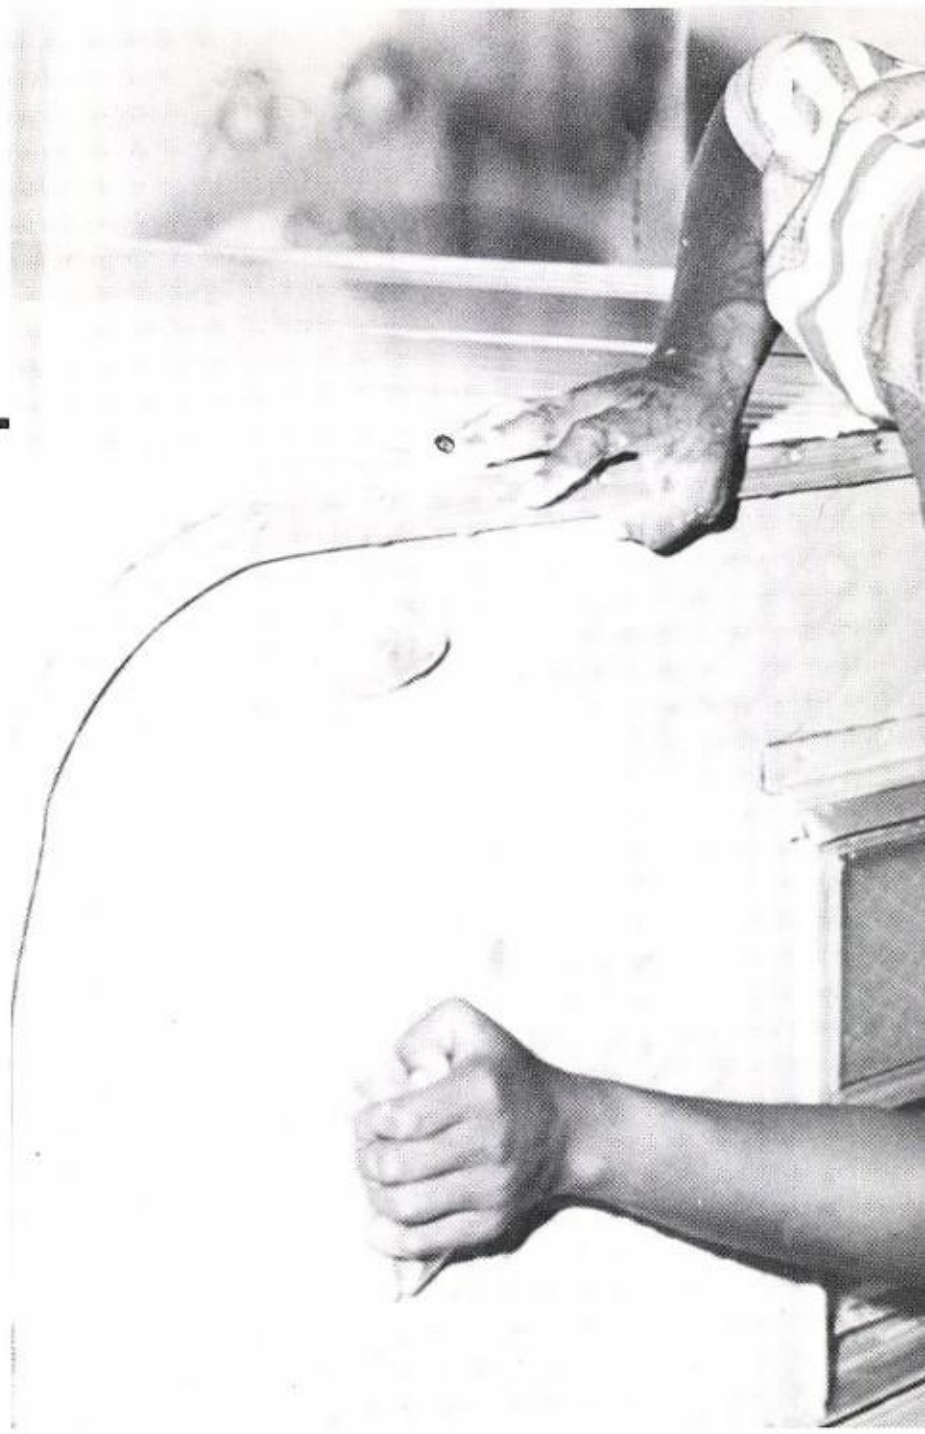
*vocational education

Variety highlights practical aspects of vocational area

Vocational classes are probably among the most practical classes that are offered in any high school. With cosmetology, body and fender, auto mechanics, electricity, sheet metal, drafting, and woodwork classes preparing these people for a role in society that has been prepared for them already, much has been done to give them a head start in business. The classes are unique in their mixture of classroom work and actual laboratory techniques, and offer fascinating ventures to those who enroll in them.

Doug Brewer, Wayne Seeley, and Terry Muno settle their argument on what a spark plug really is. Confused about which switch is which Mark Robinson gets all tangled up. Helping Debbie Sammons get ready for a pep assembly, Terry Meler puts on the final touches.





"The service we render to others is really the rent we pay for our room on this earth."

— Wilfred Grenfeil

Vocational classes feature interesting aspects of 'doing'

Some of the lab work in the vocational classes are ver-r-r-r-ry interesting! How many classes are offered that entail time climbing poles? Or washing hair? Or straightening fenders? Or making drawings of big buildings? And get credit for it, too! These are interesting classes with interesting ways of teaching. And teaching by doing is almost always superior to talking about it.

Tony Hall and Joe Jennings look over a tough problem in auto mechanics. Harlen Owens tries out his beautifying skills in body and fender class. Gary Newby prepares truck for painting in body and fender. Fred Jones contemplates what to do next in his mechanical drawing class.

"The ultimate solution to the race problem lies in the willingness of men to obey the unenforceable."

Home economics provides practical help for city life

Home economics classes are tailored for the girl who plans to survive in the big city on a limited budget. Foods classes can teach how to live on a budget and still eat well. Clothing is for the girl who would like to wear clothes while she eats — the food costs are so high that she can't afford to buy anything to wear.

Family relations and child guidance explore the relationship between parent and child and what can be expected in a situation. Home planning and decorating teaches decorating tactics that can make a home attractive, rather inexpensively.

"Look it's growing!" says Vicki Milam to the rest of her group. "My cookies burned to a crisp!" Sharon Johnson exclaims. "This darn machine messed up my dress," moans Nanette Davis. Hillary Hanshue is busy sewing on her coat for winter. "I hope it's not as tough as leather this time!" says Sherry Owens in foods. Laying out their pattern, Linda Mosier and Susan Wilson smooth out the wrinkles.

Art expressions expand in wider course selection

Art is the most intimate expression of one's self in a material form. Art can manifest itself in many forms and fashions, but at Grant, the traditional mediums of picture drawings and painting are accepted in the art classes. Added to these are ceramics and jewelry making, which are additions to the curriculum fairly recently.

Pam Shunkwiler and Shurby Grider are busy at work in their art class. Henderson Harris' talented hands mold clay into a masterpiece. Jimmy Folmer and Larry Booth create masks out of papier maché. Bill Sandefer and Sammy Kerby set their artwork in the sun to dry. Jewelry students clean up from their messy work.

"Maybe pollution is nature's way of saying, 'So you think you're smart!' "

*mathematics

Math absolutely loved or loathed, beginning to end

Math is an absolute subject — either it is absolutely loved or it is absolutely loathed. Either General Math II will be taken, or analytics, matrix, math analysis, and trig are taken — all at the same time. Math is difficult for some, easy for others, challenging to all. Math is a science that has only had the surface scratched as to the knowledge that can be attained.

"It's harder than I thought," says Tommy Lawrence as Mr. Palmer shows the right technique to use. Craig Henry takes the easy way out and uses his calculator. Kevin Orf shows Scott Uffen the right way to do it. Cheryl McDaniel tries to find the right answer by using the slide rule.

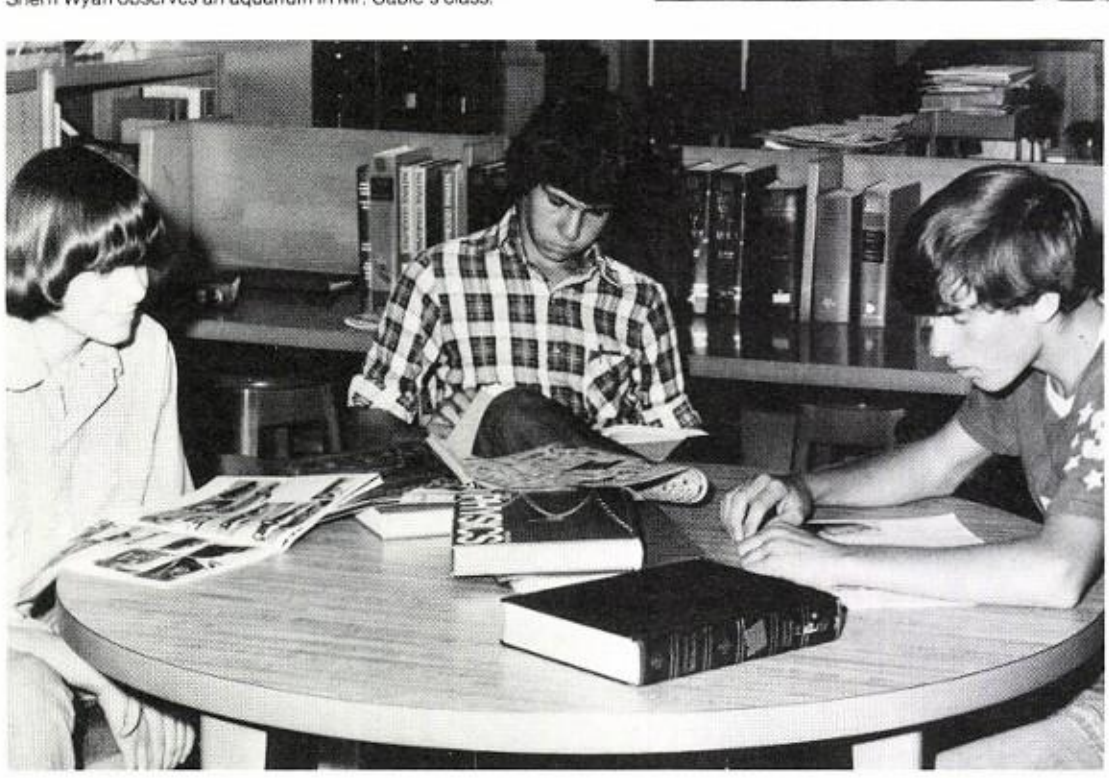
Science expands from superstition to theories, facts

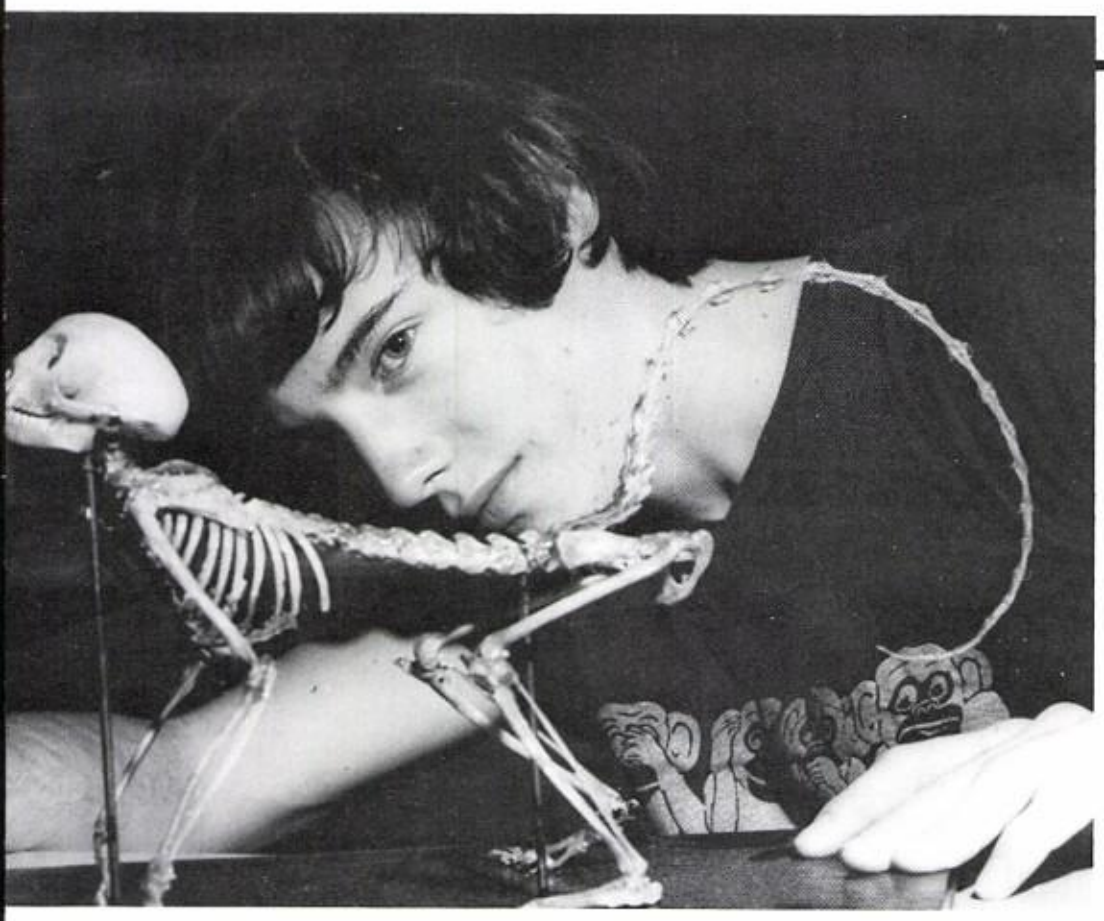
Science is as old as history itself, and as history shows the growth and progress of the advances of the various societies, science shows the ways in which man has progressed from superstition to fact. Offered at Grant are Biology I, earth science, and science survey; at Douglass, Biology II, Chemistry I and II, and physics are offered. Science is fascinating, interesting, difficult, challenging, and sometimes even fun. Since it is required one year, each student will have it, enjoy it or not.

"Far out!" says Johnny Bailey as he finds out what placenta really looks like. The library is sometimes a place to think and read. Playing a little game of "catch" are Alan Tinsley and Kevin Pollock as Susan Snodgrass looks on horrified. Jimmy Scroggins studies over the anatomy of a monkey. Charles Dodson tries to balance out the scales as an assignment in science. Sherri Wyan observes an aquarium in Mr. Cable's class.



* "When I was young, I thought socialism was the mathematics of justice. Now I realize it is only the arithmetic of envy."

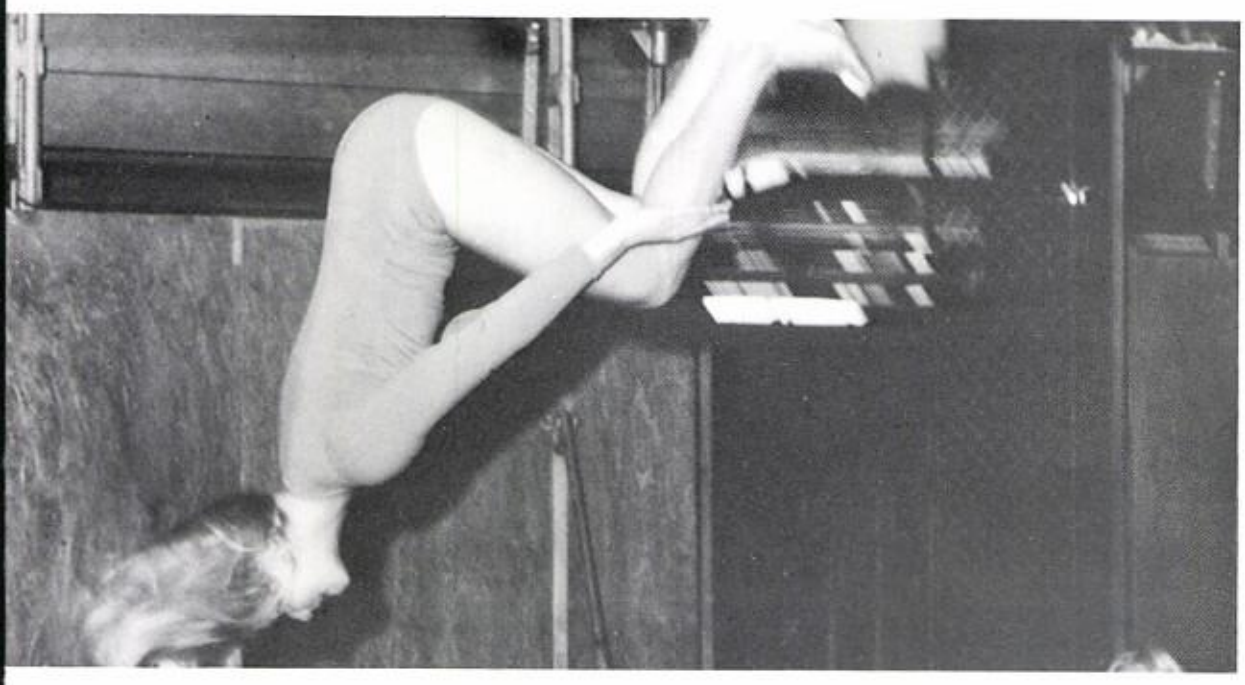
— Martin Collins



*driver education

* "We treat this world of ours as though we had a spare in the trunk."

— Al Bernstein



Skills developed, in both drivers', physical education

Physical education is required one year for freshmen, and is usually taken by boys for at least another year. Competition and physical fitness are stressed in these classes.

Driver education is a class taken by almost every student, whether in the regular school year, or during the summer months. Learning the traffic laws, studying proper methods and applying driving theory, sometimes just lowering insurance rates are the reasons for this class's popularity.

"Oh my gosh! What'll my dad say when I tell him this happened?" exclaims Julie Taylor as she runs into a minor accident in Driver's Ed. Mr. Ernie Daniels takes a moment to pray before he takes out his first student driver of the day. Posing prettily and in modern dance's true form is the Modern Dance II class. "Up, up, and away!" says Markel Latham as she does a back aerial somersault in Gymnastics II.

Organizations are the largest organized groups, the clubs, fellowships, societies, and associations that are for the students who are interested in the subjects and activities that are offered by the various organizations.

Student Council has two firsts

Fund raising projects the Ugliest Male and Nicest Teacher contest, and Junior Varsity vs. Faculty game were both firsts this year for Student Council.

At Christmastime the group had a Santa's Express which involved selling carnations. They also took children from Sunbeam Nursery to Crossroads Mall after which they gave them a party. They also gave children at St. John's Nursery a Christmas party.

Nostalgia week was in March. A Fifties sock hop highlighted the end of the festivities.

Officers were Terri Ratzlaff, president; Erick Simpson, vice president; Kari Rea, secretary; Pam Davis, treasurer; Scott Miller, sergeant at arms.

Council elects multiple royalty

Early in the school year the Student Council sponsored the election of Mr. and Miss Howdy, and for the first time, royalty was named for each class.

Senior class royalty were Tina Gonzalas and Charlie Weeks.

Juniors boast multiple firsts

Taking first place was approaching a habit for the junior class as they took first place with their homecoming float and several first places for hall decorations.

With Richard Alvarado as class president and Mrs. Lettie Hunter as head sponsor the group raised money by supporting the play "Everybody Loves Opal." In addition, they raised prom money with a car wash and candy sales.

Other officers include James Young, vice president; Jana Davis, secretary; Vanessa Walker, reporter; Cheryl Baker, treasurer.

Honor Society starts scholarship

Honor Society, in its second year after being re-activated, started a scholarship fund this year.

With Kenny Noble as president of the group, they began having professional speakers like representatives for Phi Beta Kappa.

They contributed services to the March of Dimes and in December attended a convention on Child Abuse.

National Honor Society. President Kenny Noble hangs charter for National Honor Society in the library. Debbie Mathies and Linda Manasco work diligently on the student I.D. cards.

Steve Larsen, secretary, takes fees from Marilyn Boatman while Debbie Mathies and Cheryl Raprich wait their turn to get rid of their money. Linda Manasco gives her report of March of Dimes convention to Melesa McIntyre, Debbie Mathies, Marilyn Boatman, Cheryl Raprich, and Cindy Hall listen intently.

Scientific clubs push knowledge

Two school clubs primarily interested in promoting the scientific interests of students are Mu Alpha Theta and the Rocket Club. Mu Alpha Theta, the math club is for all students who have trigonometry or higher, at least a "B" in math and no grade lower than a "C" in any other class. The Rocket Society builds rockets and flies them. Its sponsor was Mr. Ron Cable.

Mu Alpha Theta sponsored a national math test in March and also a math test to qualify students for the school math awards, given at the end of the year. Several social events were also sponsored, along with a rather rigorous initiation. Mr. Severlan Vaughn sponsored the Math Club.

Paper maintains modified format

With Ellen Rains as editor-in-chief, the Grant Dispatch maintained a modified magazine format again this year. Again the school paper featured a different spot color each issue.

In conjunction with the yearbook staff, and Dr. Ruth Kraemer's other classes, the Dispatch staff gave the faculty appreciation luncheon at Christmastime.

Other editors were Monita Denson and Rhonda Wright, news editors; Jeff Farris, editorial editor; Jeff Johnson, feature editor; and Sherry Buchanan, sports editor. Artist-cartoonist was Mike Sherrill, and photographer was Karen Wasser.

General royalty named in winter

To avoid last minute crownings the 1975 General staff had their annual assembly in January where they crowned their royalty. However, books were not unveiled until May.

With the theme, "Footnotes," the staff chose a predominantly red cover in contrast with the grey one of last year. Suzanne Mabry led the staff as editor-in-chief.

The staff, in collaboration with the Grant Dispatch, gave the teachers a luncheon in December.

Roberson wins Halloween race

Mrs. Brenda Roberson won the Halloween Dress Up Your Teacher contest sponsored by the Human Relations Club at Halloween time.

During spring break members of the group sponsored by Mr. Mike Barlow, went to New York and visited places such as Harlem, Coney Island, Central Park, and George Washington's High School. The purpose was to see New York as a New Yorker would, not as a tourist.

The Human Relations club also raised money by selling bumper stickers that said "Make it work," and passed out buttons saying "Boycott Racism."

A school dance was sponsored also. In the spring the club attended several Human Relations Workshops during the year including a weekend workshop at one of the state lodges.

Workshops, the same type of activities as in a classroom, included role playing, group circles, simulation games, discussions and just having a lot of fun.

DE goes state, raises monies

Distributive education students culminated their activities with their state convention in Oklahoma City in March. Approximately 25 students represented the school at the annual meet.

In September the group had a McDonald's Day which gave DE half the proceeds of McDonald's sales from 3 to 7 p.m. In October the group shared proceeds from a little league pee-wee Bowl with the Optimist Club. Also in October they made an all-day trip to Dallas markets.

At Thanksgiving they filled baskets for needy families and at Christmas they contributed to Toys for Tots.

At the annual employer-employee breakfast banquet they announced their royalty.

Thespians star with 'Opal' play

Thespians presented the fall production "Everybody Loves Opal," with proceeds going for the junior class. The play starred James Ray, Vanessa Walker, Connie Green, Charles Dodson and Bill Oliver.

At Christmas, the acting group presented short stories for grade school children.

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Jayne Thompson, the group also had a spring production.

The group also participated in several workshops and contests.

Choir competes, has winterfest

With a January banquet highlighting the year, the choir attended several contests, including district, Central State and others. They also crowned choir royalty.

The Choir sang during the holiday season at several city locations including Crossroads Mall and Sheperd Mall.

The Choir also sang at school twice, once at Christmas and once at a PTSA meeting.

Fellowship is the kind of thing that you would like to have all the time, but unfortunately, that is not always possible. Being with friends is the thing that most would like to do most of the time. Unfortunately, there are circumstances beyond anyone's control that prevents this.

Being with friends, running around on weekends, eating, sleeping and even practically living together seems to be the order of the day. Most everyone has at least one set of foster parents whom they see at least as much as they see their own, and usually they love them about as much as they love their own.

Fellowship is the thing that is necessary for proper development, and one of the things that is really enjoyed by all and really is beneficial in almost all cases. Learning how to associate and get along is one of the lessons essential to proper social growth.

Friday and Saturday nights are usually the nights that couples are seen on the town. A quick trip to McDonald's or an evening dining in elegance in one of the city's finer restaurants. A date can be anything that is imaginable, from bowling, to dragging 59th, to going on a hayride, to dining in style! Anything! Taking in a film is the most common way to spend an evening, but it is usually an enjoyable experience — whatever you decide.

Crossroads Mall is a popular place for an evening. With several different kinds of eating establishments, several methods of entertainment, and the carnival-like atmosphere that prevails, the mall is a place not only to shop, but also a place to drink in and consume.

Fashions this year ranged from overalls to the longer dress lengths, to the hooded blouse, to the high waisted cuffed pants.

For the guys, t-shirts and jean jackets still topped the list. Blue jeans were as always a favorite, as were suede boots for foot comfort.

Rabbit was a big, big fashion essential this year. Rabbit jackets, rabbit sleeves, rabbit vests and sweater additions were a big plus in the fashion scene.

Fake furs and Eisenhower jackets seemed to be the style of the moment and the longer skirts were more of a style than a fad of the 50's craze. The platforms and scarves at the neck recalled the styles of "Be bop" and sock hops.

Men, although they were geared for comfort for the most part, enjoyed the Gatsby styling that has influenced most of the recent more stylish dress clothes. Cuffs and wide lapels showed the influence.

Christmas, Thanksgiving, Hannukah, St. Valentine's Day. Some of these days are celebrated by everyone sometime. Holidays are times when old aunts come around and have a cheek-pinching party or "I bet you don't remember me. Look how much you've grown!" game. On holidays, eating and receiving gifts seem to be in the order of the day, unless sleeping tops the list.

The holidays, a time for gift-giving and reunion, are also a time for remembering where all these things came from. The things that we enjoy everyday, just tapes and records, food and a good bed every night.

What is commonly known as the holiday season is a time for giving and thanksgiving. Thankfulness for a new year to begin, thankfulness for a free country to live in, thankfulness for the gifts of a season that is built on love and thanksgiving.

Homecoming is in a land of its own, having a queen to reign over it, attendants for her, jesters before her, crowds who love her, a night planned just for her and her alone. Graduates come back that night to see how things have changed, to spill a few tears over times past, and to see what the generation now has to offer.

Homecoming is a tradition from generations past, and is usually celebrated by those who are in those past generations. If it is examined closely, it will be seen that the ones with the most cameras and the ones cheering the loudest at the coronation are not the students, but, alas, the parents who cheer the loudest, who take the pictures who take care of all the things that should be done by the excited students.

Are they trying to recapture their youth, or are they remembering their own time? Are they just trying to preserve the moment for their posterity, or is it really just a time to reassure themselves that time is not lost?

Assemblies — a place to get bored, to catch a little shut-eye, to learn, to be bored, to ditch during, most anyway to spend the time that is needed to do whatever it is that is not supposed to be done. Assembly behavior is a top administrative concern — and this becomes a constant reminder of what is expected of the student body. Assemblies are one of the things that keep a student body alive, one of the things that is a part of school life from the beginning.

In grade school they were something to be looked forward to. Seeing films or hearing lectures or seeing plays were fun back then. Junior high brought the advent of having several assemblies that really were mature. Purposes now vary. Some are to entertain, true; but many are to inform and to educate.

And now assemblies are a way of life that will never be gone — in churches, higher educaton, and conventions — there they will be.

Assemblies are a big part of school — pep assemblies, plays, speeches, and even smaller ones with modern dance and other departments sponsoring such things. Thespians usually headline the assembly makers because of the number of plays and one-acts that are presented. However, in recent years, modern dance and gymnastics have had assemblies that were most impressive.

The Northwest Classen modern dance class visited in the early winter, presenting an assembly that included many special effects, as special costumes, lighting effects and musical effects.

The yearbook assembly is usually one of the highlights of the year. With the crowning of General and his Lady, and Prince and Princess of print, and entertainment that is second to none, the traditional pomp and pageantry that accompanies this is one of the things that keeps the school life together from year to year.

Wow! the night of the prom! I really have to get close for Charlene, says Russ Woods to himself.

The prom — a dream of teenage girls from the time immemorial, of grandeur and beauty fill the head of the girl going to her first junior-senior prom, and usually her dream is fulfilled with a prince charming that is the apple of her eye.

The prom is a fairyland of dreams and desires. It has a queen and a king to rule over it, a royal band to play for it and an evening that will remain in the hearts of people all over forever.

The prom royalty consists of five girls and five boys who are chosen by the combined junior and senior classes. They are primped and photographed, over and over until they are sufficiently sickened of it, and then the one who had the most votes in the vote was crowned king and queen of the prom. End of fairy tale, back to reality.

Sports — the one legal way to express oneself in a most violent way. Psychologists say that on the football field the most basic sounds of man are heard. And in this spirit of our baser nature, the spirit of competition must also be taken into consideration. Competition keeps most species alive and on their toes for predators. Competition is one of the most basic drives. To be better than someone else is one of the greatest satisfactions that a person can know. And in sports, this is legal.

Gridster record climbs to 6-3-1

Gridsters had a 6-3-1 season, compiling 2810 total offensive yards, 1616 of those in passing, and the remaining 1194 in rushing.

Leading rusher was Phillip Williams, who rushed for 534 yards on 69 carries, averaging 7.7 yards per carry. Trailing him were Mark Ellison with 454 yards, and Robert Aldridge who ran for 74 yards.

Leading pass receiver was Craig Carter, who caught 40 passes for 480 yards, averaging 12 yards per carry. Craig also scored 12 touchdowns, as well as 2 conversion points for the highest scorer.

Scott Brewer was the leading passer, completing 109 of 251 attempts with 18 interceptions and throwing for 18 touchdowns. Scott scored 6 touchdowns and 15 extra points.

Joe Bob Wright practices his interception drills which paid off during the Generals' winning season. The Generals scored mostly by passing, but here they proved their power on the turf. Mark Ellison literally tears away from the opponents. With an excellent execution of blocking assignments, Mark Ellison is able to bring the ball downfield for a first down. Jerry Scott breaks down for a tackle against Southeast opponents.

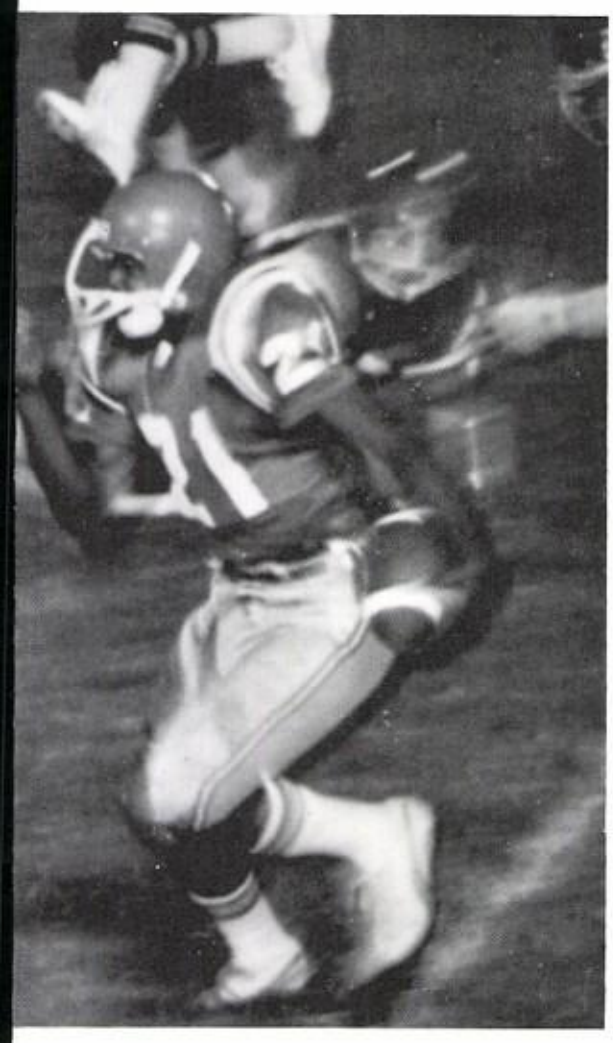
In the hard-fought tie game between Del City and Grant, the Generals fall short a yard on a quarterback sneak. Running from Syd Haynes, the opponent from Southeast doesn't know he's heading for Shunkwilder, Wright and Company. Looking for open field, Phillip Williams was the number one rusher on the ground. One of the top receivers in the state, Craig Carter amazes fans with another unbelievable reception. Mike Lambeth proved to be an asset in the Generals' kicking game.

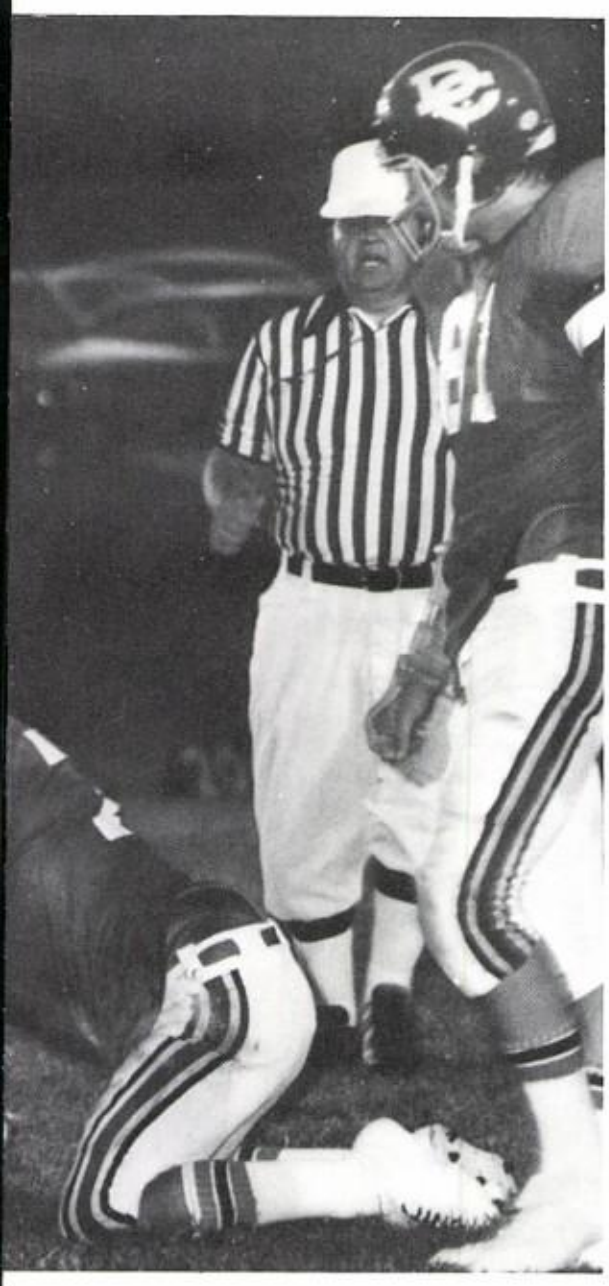
Southeast win top for season

Defeating Southeast was, in the opinion of the coaching staff, the high point of the year, with the Northwest game running a close second. Del City and Northwest were both mentioned as the best games this year.

Several of the coaches evaluated Craig Carter, Scott Brewer, Mark Dixson, Steve Huddleston, Phillip Williams, Glen Shunkwiler, Jerry Scott, Mike Sorrels, Pat Medina, Joe Bob Wright, and Sid Haynes as among more oustanding players, both offensively and defense-wise. "Phillip Williams was the most improved player," added Coach Choate, "and Sid was our best lineman."

Several players were mentioned on all state teams, including Scott Brewer, who was also chosen for the Oklahoma Journal "Blue Chip prospect" list.





Mark Ellison struggles away from John Marshall linebacker as he later went in for six points for the Generals Junior Varsity. With a little blocking, give it to Mark Ellison and he'll take it in. Shuffling, cutting, and faking Mark Ellison tries desperately to maneuver around his pursuer. Top varsity material is seen here in Homer Dade as he brings in a pass against Northwest Classen for a touchdown. Breaking tackles around the end, Andy Taylor was great as a sophomore running back.

Junior varsity chalks up 4-4

Junior Varsity closed their season with a 4-4 record.

Junior Varsity head coach Kamal Shanbour evaluated "Del City as the high game of the season" which the Generals won 34-14.

Several players the coach termed as outstanding, effective, or much improved were Tom Crim, Dean Parton, Tiger McDermott, Jerry Scott, Joe Washington, Andy Taylor, Robert Cartwright, Doug Roberson, Joe Darrow, Steve Finley, Mike Raber and Jim Rowland. Dean Parton and Joe Darrow were tagged the most improved players by Coach Shanbour.

"We played a good game against Putnam City. We should have won it, but we lost 21-20," added the coach. "Western Heights was our best executed game which we won 24-6."

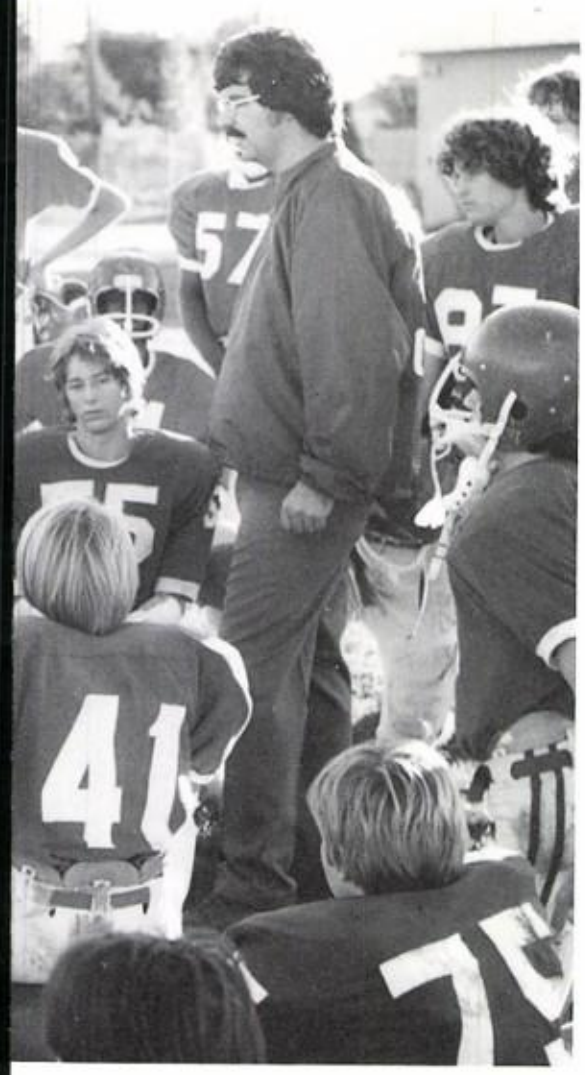
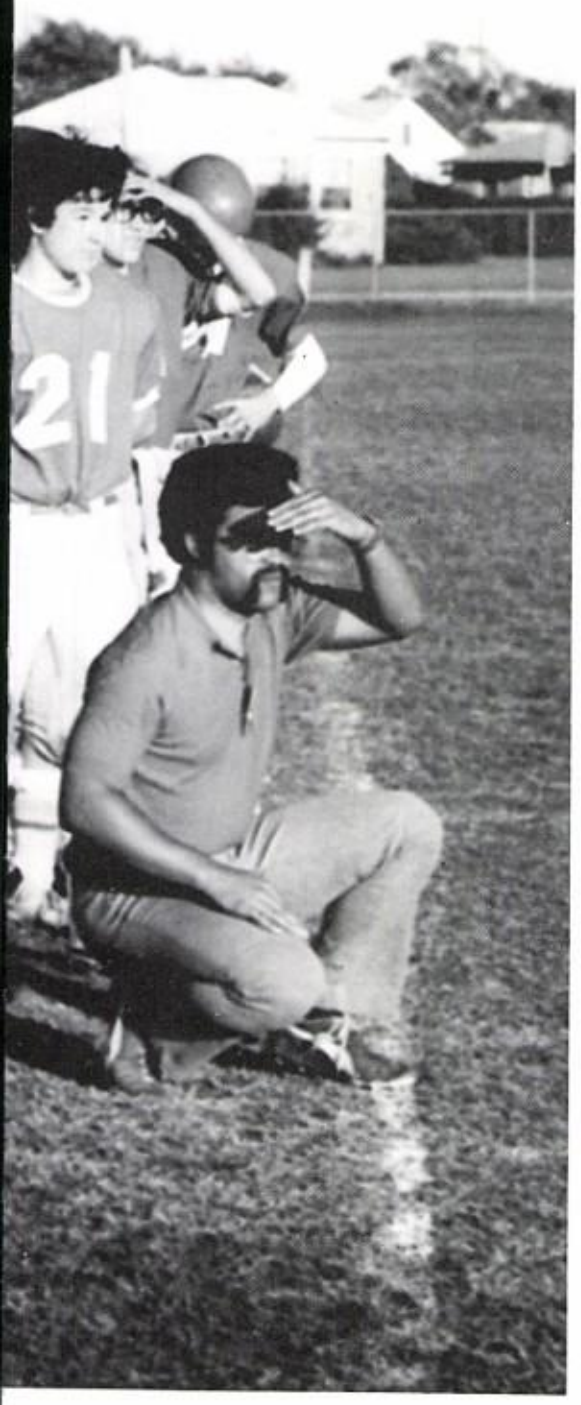
With a team record of 7-1, and holding second place in the city freshman league, the "Little Generals" held the best record among the three teams in football. Coach Jim Faurot added "We had outstanding team spirit. Everyone worked hard and put out a good team effort."

"I think our best game was the Southeast game for the Southside championship," added Coach Faurot. "The whole team made great improvement during the year."

Several outstanding players were named by Faurot. Among those were Scott Clark, Tyrone Galbreath, Rick Bateman, Randy Woods, Jeff Cobb, Bill Mullinax, and David Lambeth.

"We'll have a good freshman team next year, because of all the returning seventh and eighth graders," concluded Faurot.





Leading rusher, David Lambeth cuts loose on a short yardage situation. Thanks to Coach Faurot, freshman football had an outstanding overall record. Coach Mark Lyons reflects upon his players doing a job well done. Coach Jim Faurot and defensive Coach Lyons have looks of apprehension on a fourth down situation.

Cagers emerge with 7-16 year

From a disastrous season last year, the roundballers found considerable room for improvement and came off looking better with a 7-16 record. Senior Curtis Godwin was named on the "honorable mention" list of all-state teams and for the Mid-State conference team he was on the first team. Senior Robert Chaney was on the third all-conference team.

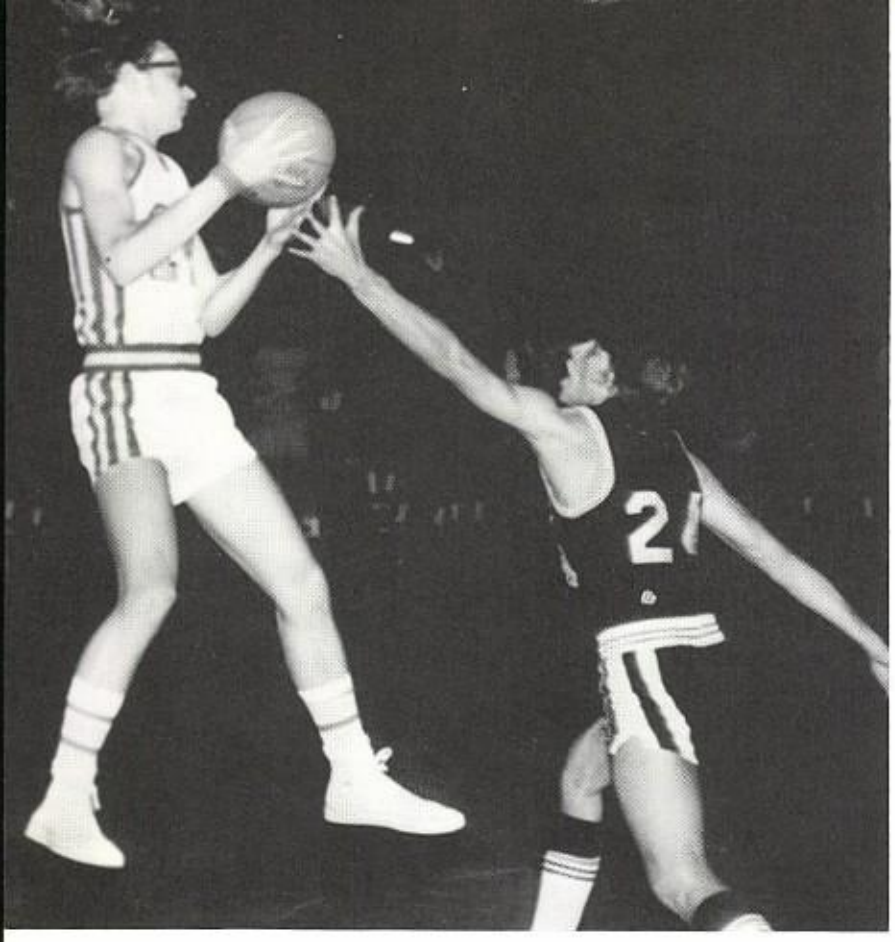
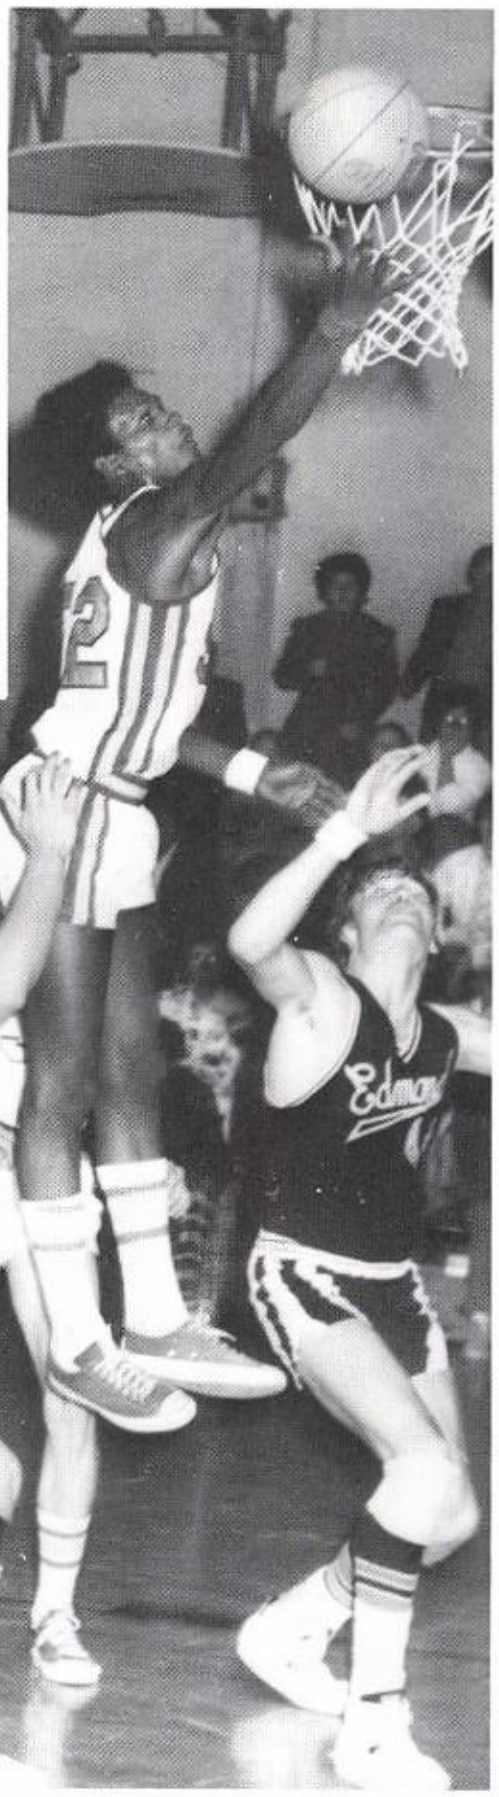
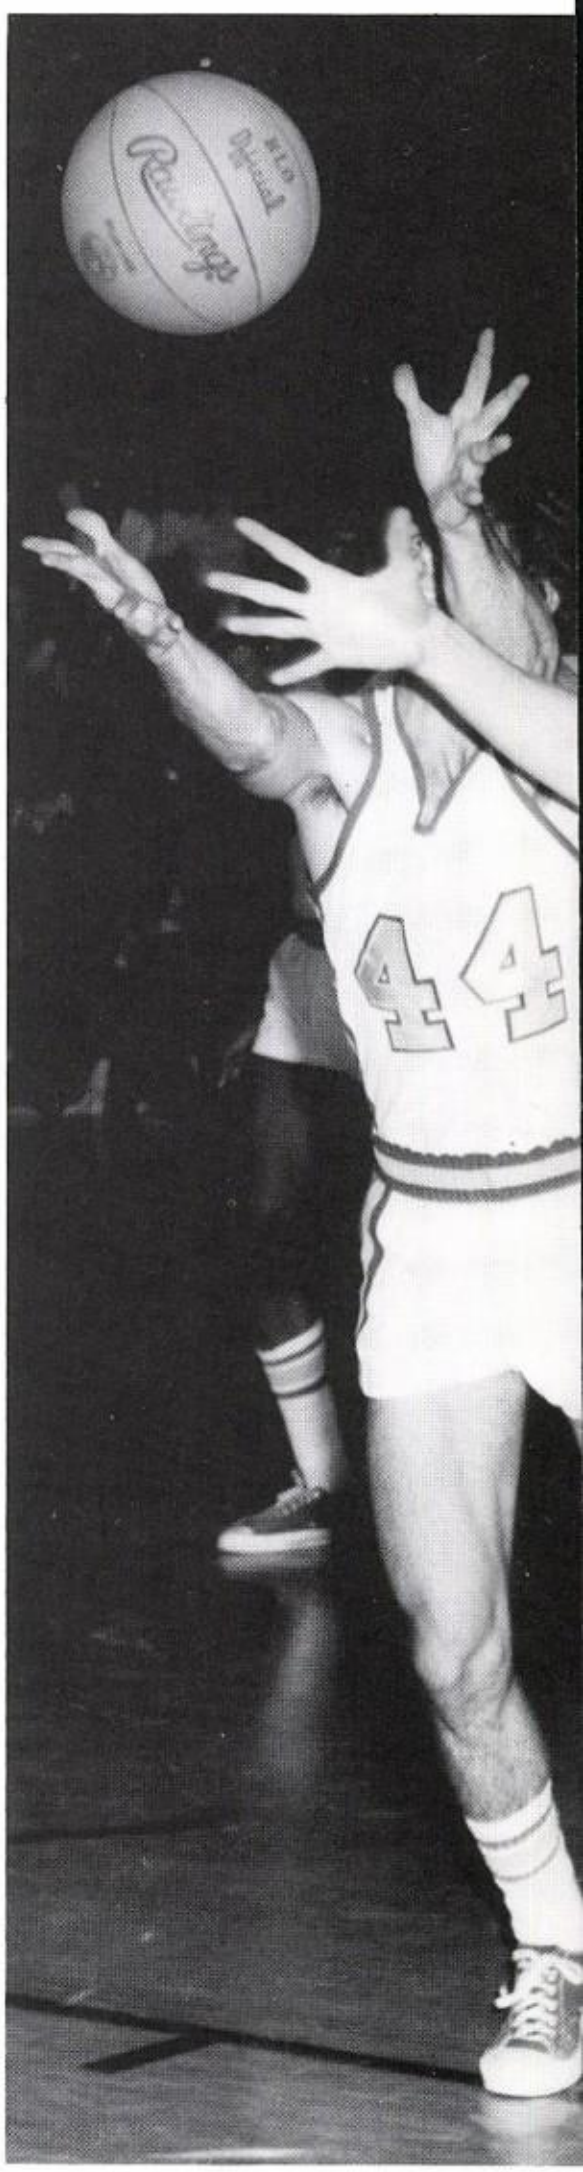
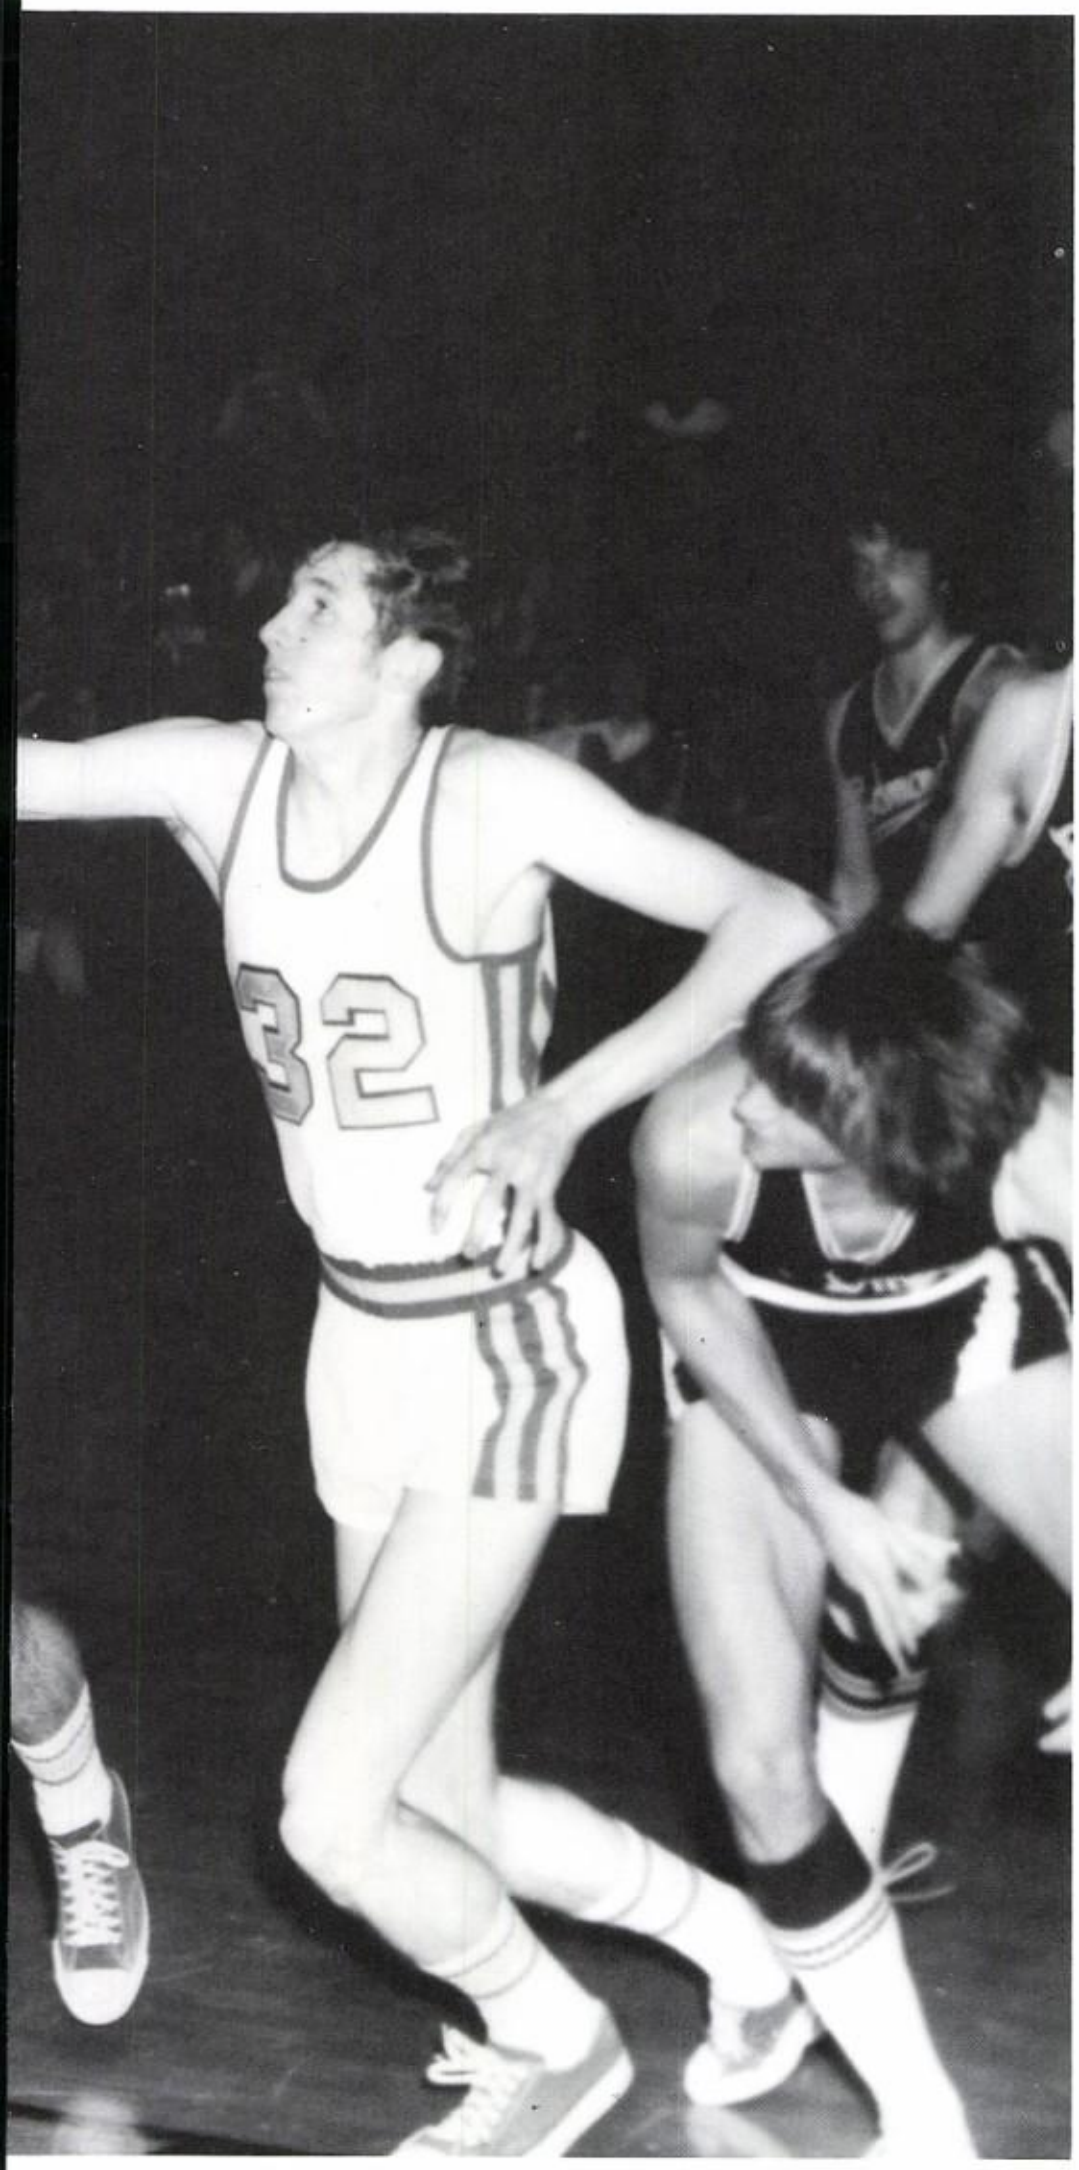
With acute accuracy, Curtis Godwin scores again! Offense isn't everything as Mark Dixson, with a great defensive move, keeps his Edmond opponent from scoring. Coach Don Metheny instructs Curtis Godwin in a crucial overtime situation against Edmond. As Mark Dixson shoots a free shot, Curtis Godwin, Gary Houlette and Ray Merideth are ready to rebound.







Always hustling, Robert Chaney steals a pass in mid-air from Edmond opponent. The leading scorer for the roundballers, Curtis Godwin executes a perfect lay-up. Mike Grambling and Ronnie Dobson stretch for the rebound. Always under the goal, Curtis Godwin fights for control of the ball.



Knapp tagged most improved

Basketball was led by scorers Mike Gramling, Curtis Godwin, Robert Chaney and Mark Dixson. In their attempts, they led the Generals to an improved season over last year. "The most improved player this year is Steve Knapp. He really put all he had into the team effort," said coach Bob Starke. "Steve really was one of the most consistent players we had this year."

This was the last year for Coach Don Metheny as head basketball coach.

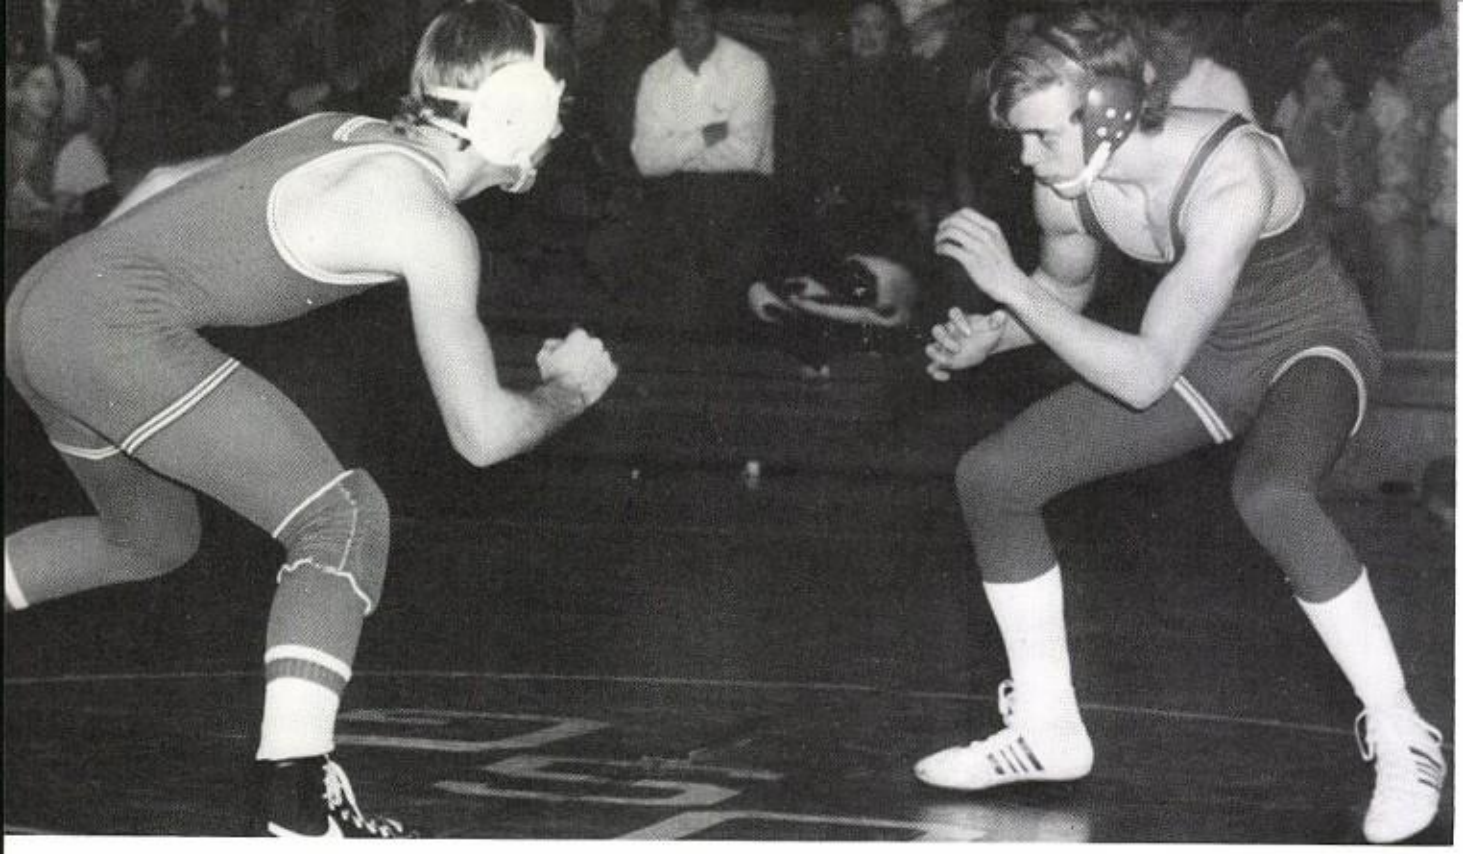
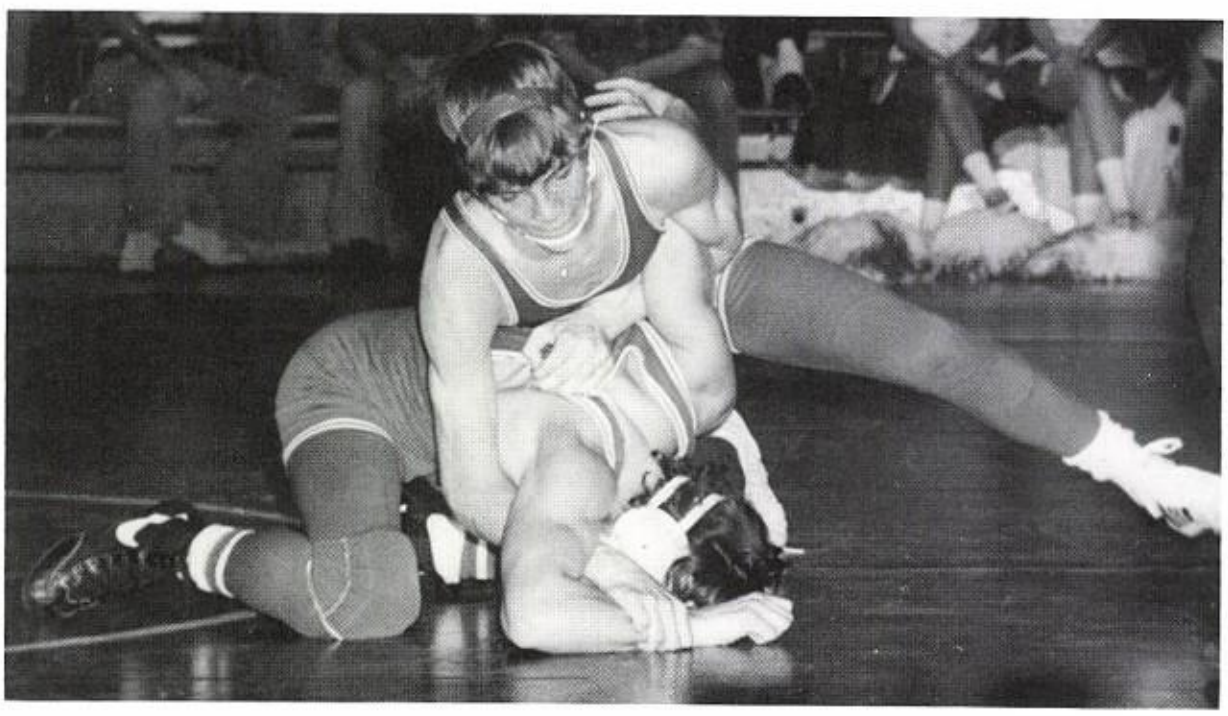
Coach projects into next year

"Next season, I look forward to with great expectation from several players. Steve Knapp is really the bright light as a returner. Also sophomore Rick Washington, juniors Wayne Seeley, Lee Henson, and Tiger McDermott, and freshman Wendall Fitchner, who I think may be the best in the bunch, will be there." This comment from Coach Bob Starke predicted what the '76 Generals have to look forward to from the '75 team.

"I think that we will probably have a crop of good freshmen next year. Two of our feeder schools, Jefferson and Jackson, are the champion middle schools in the city," Starke concluded.



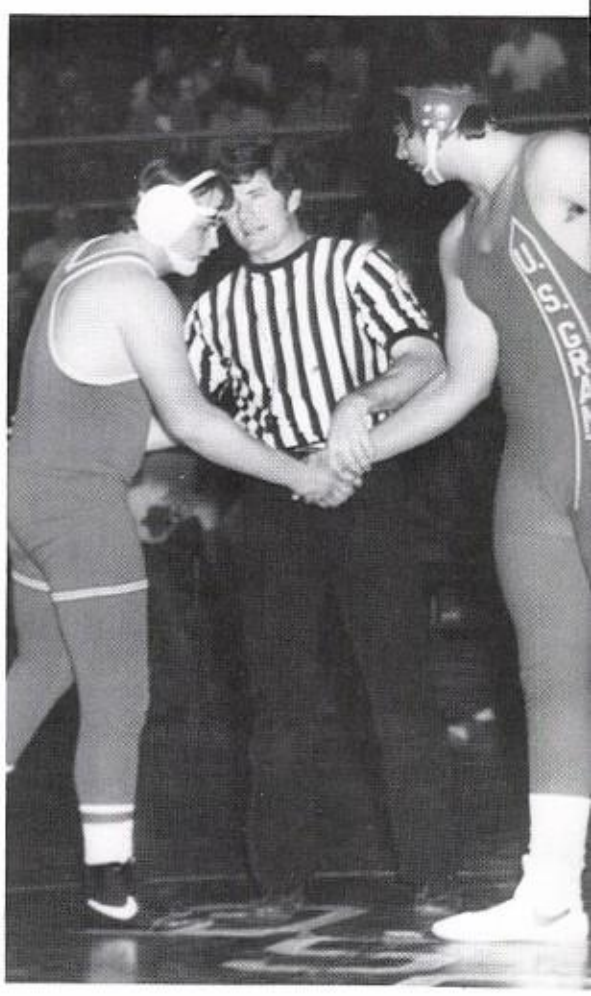


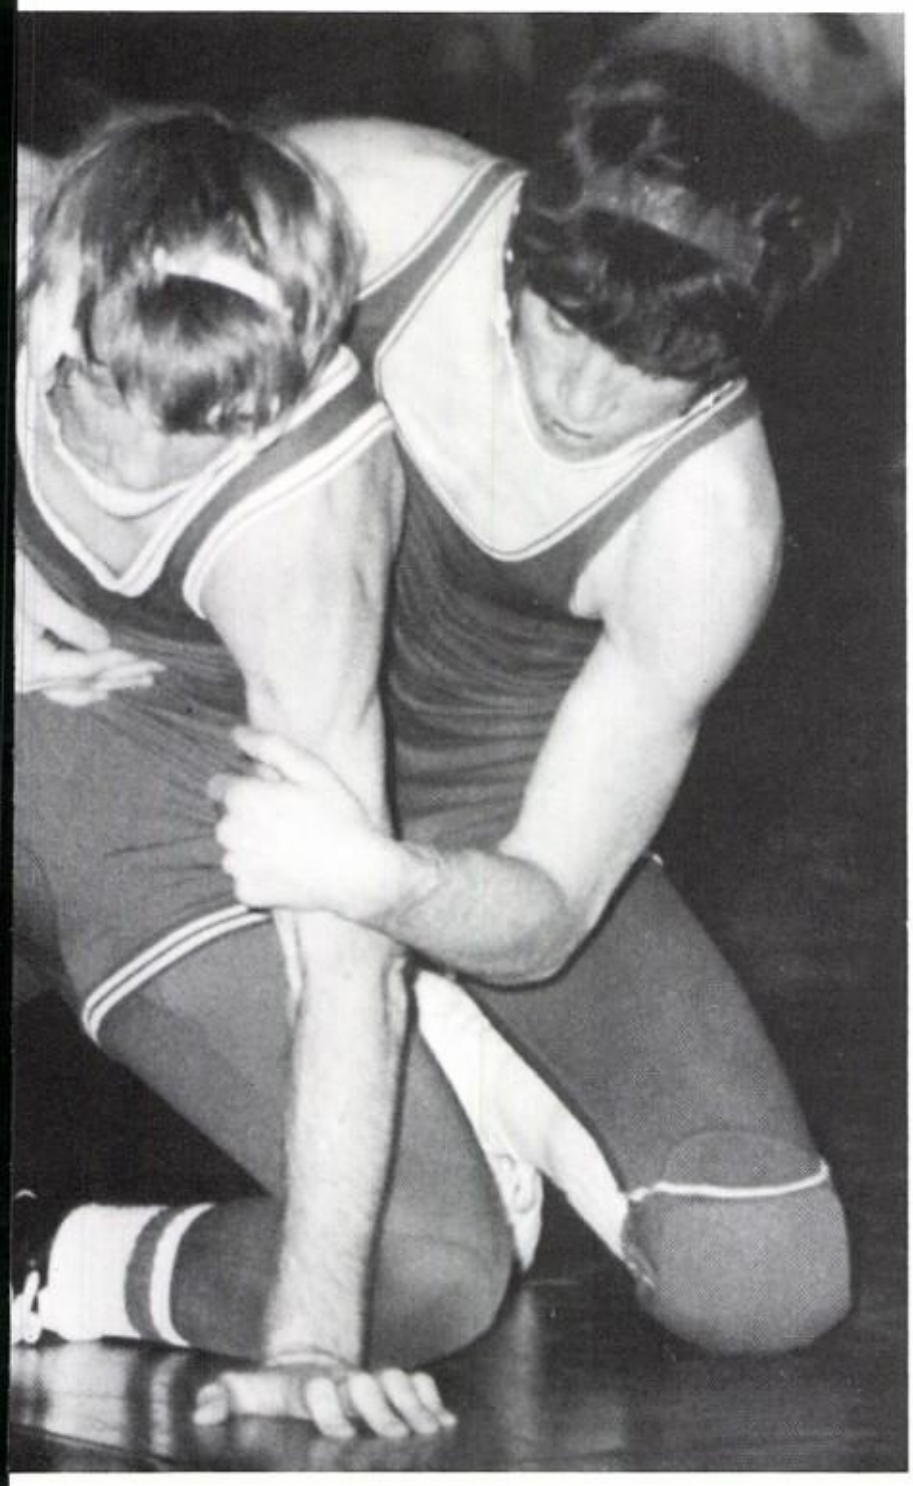
Matmen score 6-10 record

Wrestlers compiled a 6-10 win-loss record, placing second in the all-city tournament and fifth at the annual Geary tournament. Wins were scored over Edmond, Moore, Douglass, Northwest, Del City, and Northeast, totalling 263 team points.

"We were not consistent as a team, but we had some individuals who wrestled well all year," varsity coach John Magers said. "The team wrestled well at times, especially during the All-City and Geary tournaments. Other well-done matches included Edmond, Southeast, Midwest City and Del City," he added.

Big winners for the Generals included Ray Brown, Steve Garrette, Ricky Wooten, Duncan Darlin, Steve Gastineau, and Rocky Clark.





Circling for the kill, David Knight is ready for the battle. Quick as a rabbit, Ricky Wooten controls his opponent. Steve Gastineau muscles his adversary with a cross face. Duncan Darlin dominates his rival. Archie Knight has his man all wrapped up.

Duncan Darlin surprises coach

"Duncan Darlin was a pleasant surprise. He had less than one year of wrestling experience when the season started, but made steady progress all year and finished the season placing fourth in the state and leading the team in falls with seven," said coach Magers. Duncan also placed second in All-City, fourth in Mid-State, and fourth in Regional.

Rick Wooten placed second in All-City, second at Geary and third at Mid-State.

Steve Garette, with a 20-7-1 record, placed second in All-City, third in Geary, second in Mid-State, and fourth in regional play.

Senior Ray Brown placed second in All-City play, third at Geary, and second in Mid State.

"Returning next year will be Rick Wooten, David Knight, Jim Craven, Rocky Clark, Kevin Pollock, Archie Knight, and Pat Fitzgerald," Magers added. "Others who will probably see varsity action are Alex Perakis, Richard Rosebrook, David Lambeth, Lesly Roberson, James Roberson, and Scott Clark. Larry Crosson, Jeff Wright, Jerry Wooten, Bob Taylor and Craig Riley could also see some action," he concluded.

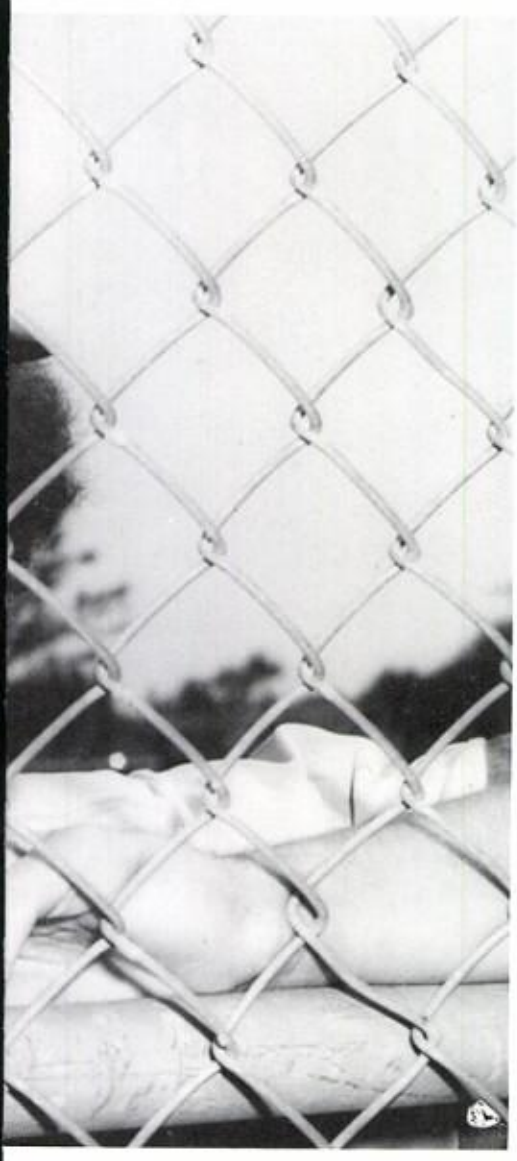
Consistent in the hitting department, Mike Walker blasts another. Timing is very important in baseball, as Mickey Martin demonstrates his favorite style. Looking at ease from the sidelines, Joe Bob Wright watches the Generals score again. Ronnie Dobson ducks the pickoff throw.

Walker, Martin leaders of team

Contenders for the Mid-State crown and with the new rule changes, the Generals' baseballers played several of "the hardest teams in the state," according to Coach Glen Castle. "We have the ability to beat some of the teams that we couldn't beat last year," he added.

Returners included seniors Robert Chaney, pitcher; Mike Walker, shortstop and outfield; Larry Shepard, first base; Ron Dobson, outfield; Keith Mikeman, pitcher; juniors Mickey Martin, catcher; Paul Heath, pitcher; Danny Standridge, pitcher; Perry Hahn, second base; Jack Talley, third base; Steve Kanpp, shortstop; Donnie Baker, outfield; and sophomore Russell Demeter, outfield.

"Probably the toughest games played are conference games. Putnam City and Del City are two of the toughest teams in the state," Coach Castle added.



Kenny Adams practices throwing the discus as he has set many records for the Generals by doing so. Here Syd Haynes demonstrates he can throw a shot put as well as he can throw bodies in football. Larry Rappe and Greg Hook practice the 880-yard relay. Tom Crim is well ahead of a teammate during time trials for a future track meet.

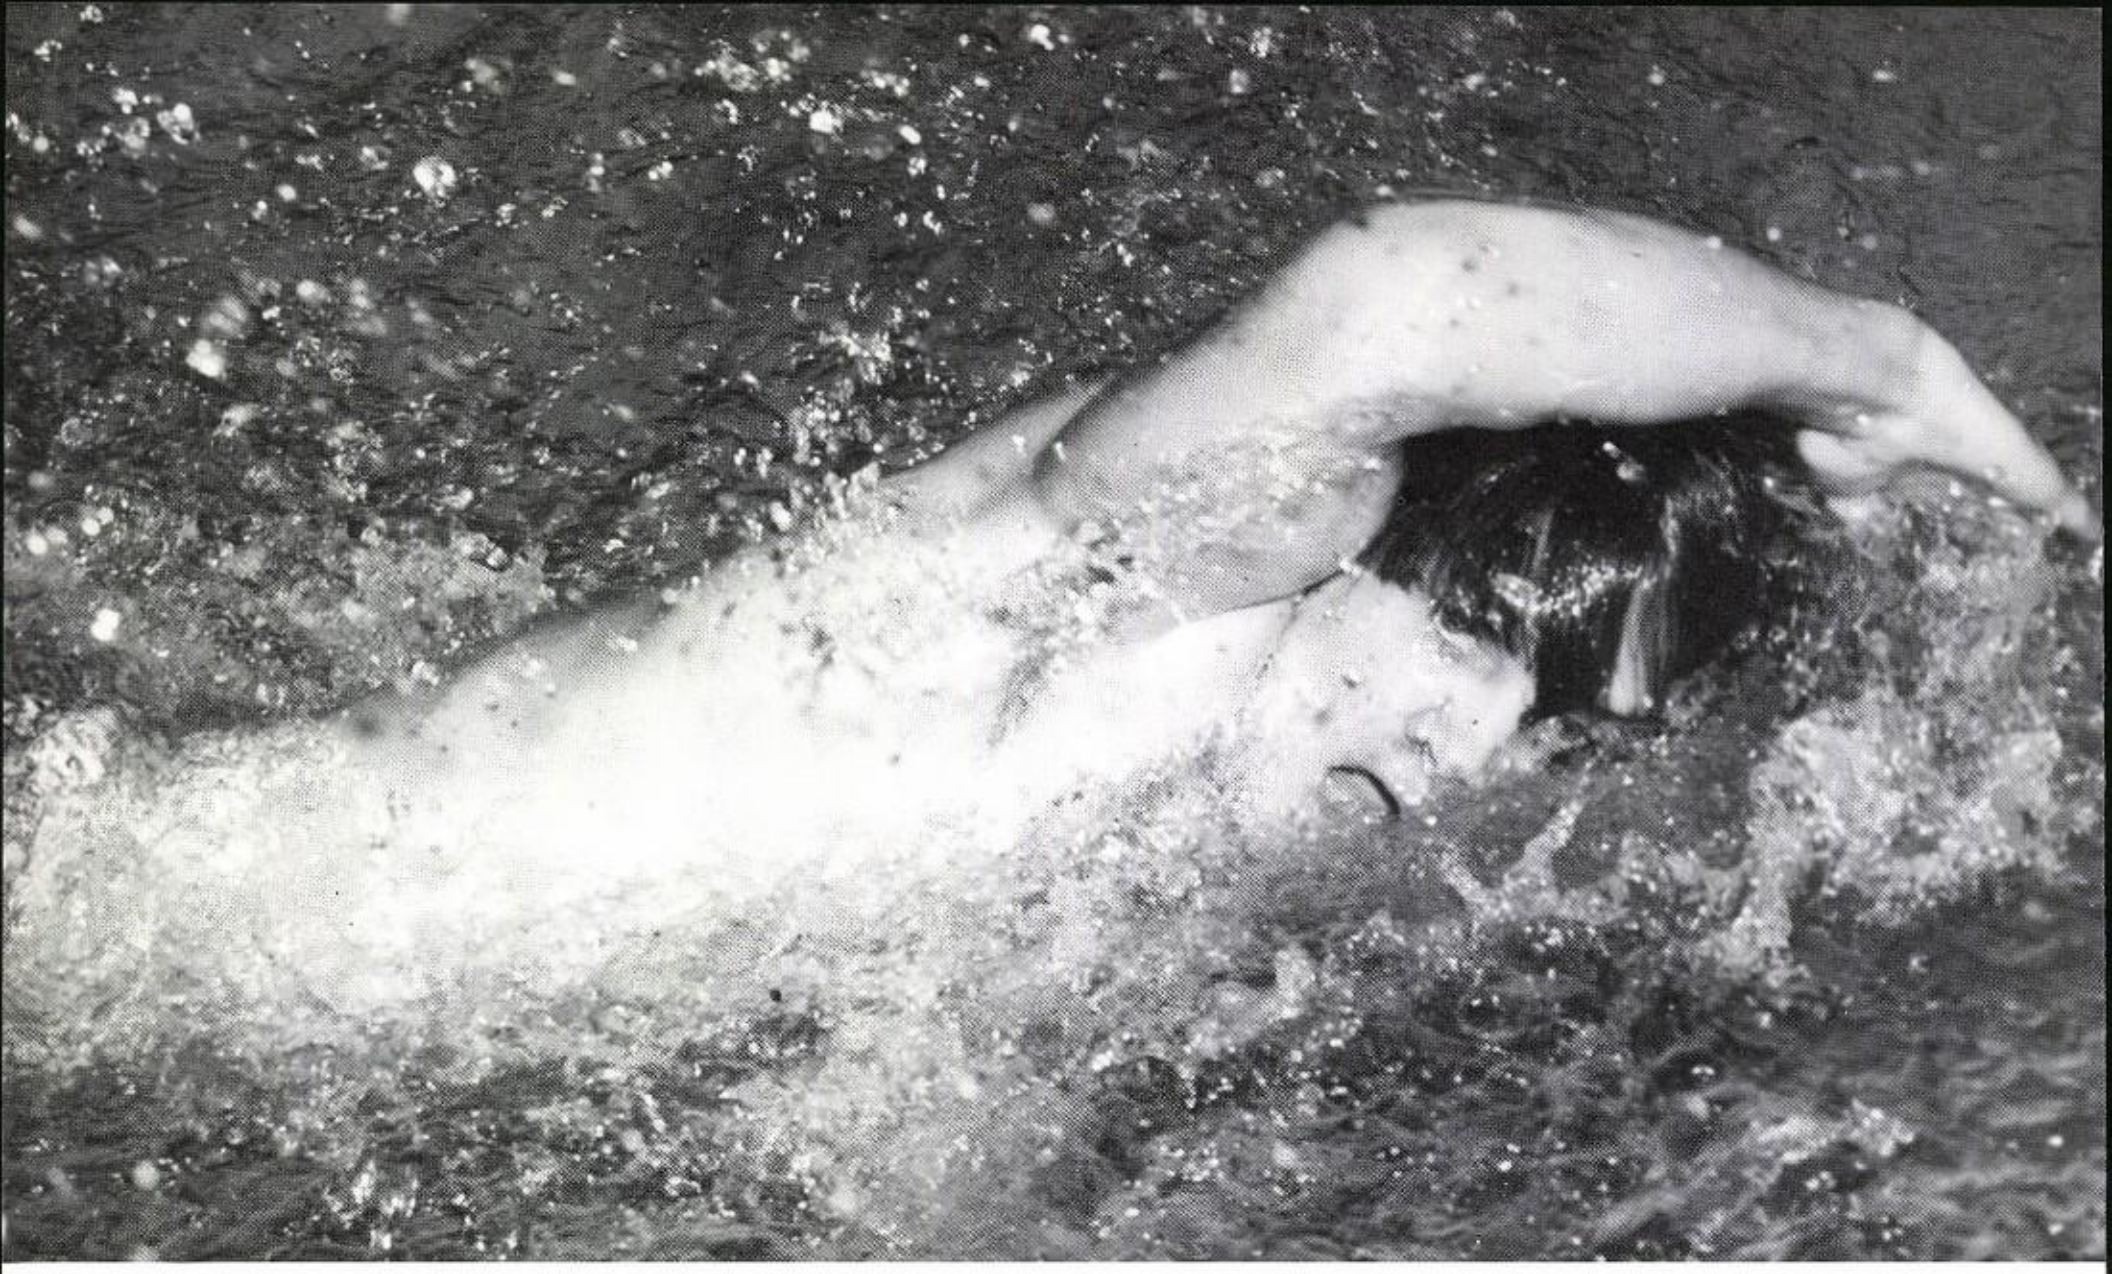
Track forecast high for season

Track a spring sport that is popular from grade school up, has a counterpart at Grant that has placed several in high standings in recent seasons. Prediction going into this spring was another similar performance.

On the weight team, lifters Syd Haynes, Ken Adams, and Ray Brown were top men. Gary Hart manned the pole vaulting, and the long distance runners included Dane Foley, Tom Craven, Mark Dixson, Jay Ball and Mike Novotny.

Sprinters this year included Phillip Williams, Greg Hooker, Rich Washington, Mark Ellison, Jerry Scott, and Tom Crim. "We'll come through our season, but the schedule is rough," added Coach Mike Barlow. "I think that we will win the City championship, and go on to the state finals," he concluded.



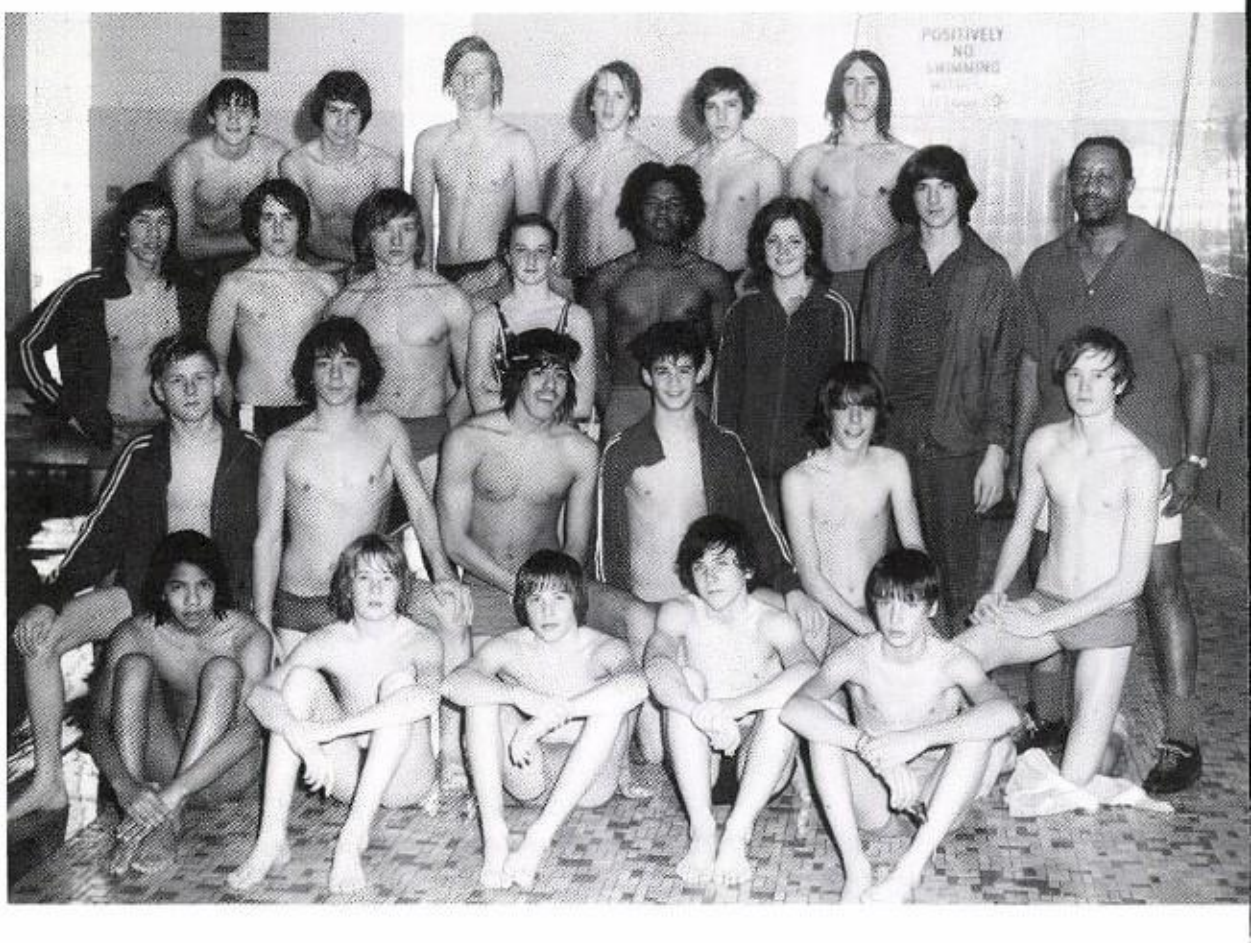
Mid-State next for swimmers

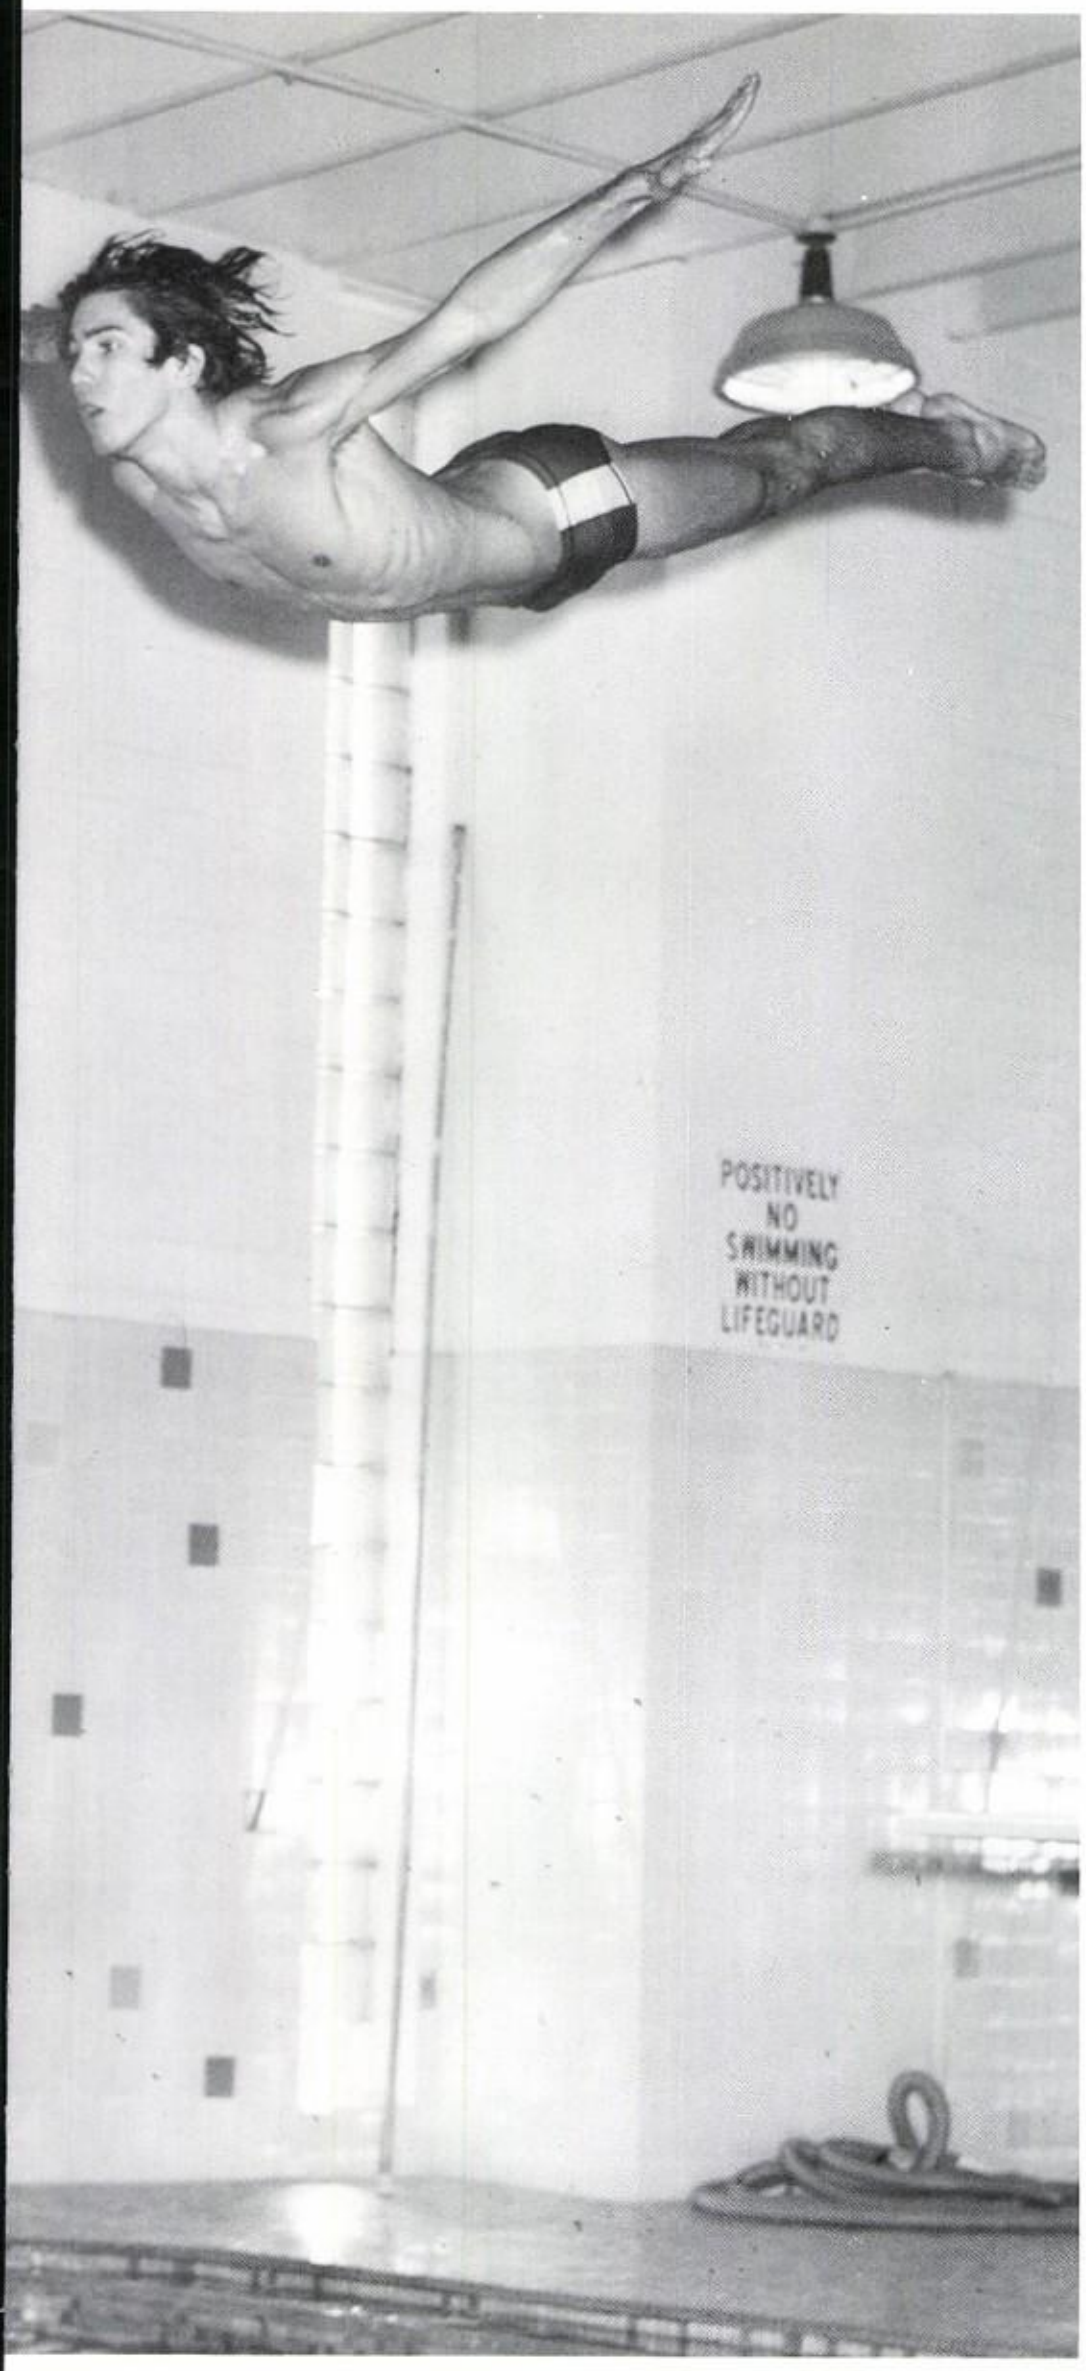
"We're in the race for Mid-State and All-City," said swimming coach John Savage. "We lost a good swimmer in Welling last year, but we still have a lot of good men, and some good girls too."

Defeating Northwest Classen was one of the highlights of the year, with a score of 42-38. "They're always good," added Coach Savage. Capitol Hill was another one of the swimmers' victories, beating the Redskins 57-17.

According to Mr. Savage, the toughest duals were against John Marshall and Putnam City.

Returning lettermen include seniors Kerby Standard, Ruben Vasquez, juniors Richard Osborn, George Torres, Curtis Johnson, Scott Miller, David Tolman, Dub Heistand, Dusty Cooper, and sophomores Rodney Foster, Roy Keener. New comers are Mark Chilcoat, Bobby Williams, and Liz Splawn.





Streaming through the water like a torpedo is Alton Hammond, one of the Generals fastest swimmers. It is easy to see why Dusty Cooper is the best diver on the team as he executes a beautiful swan dive. In time trials Roy Keener has the fastest time and beats his teammates Jeff Emerson and Curtis Johnson off the blocks. Coach Savage is often rewarded for his efforts by being thrown in the pool.

Tennis players 'better this year'

Tennis is back to defend a fourth place Mid-State position and a second in the Mid-State Tourney. With a fourth place finish in the All-City meet, the netmen "had a good season, considering the competition in both the Mid-State and also non-conference games," according to tennis coach Jim Faurot.

Returning lettermen are seniors Dallas Latham, Mark McDaniel, Doug Brewer, and Lyndall Johnson, and junior Greg Faulkner. Top prospects are Clint Rogers, Tim Mastin, Mike Jones, Kelley Mitchell, Tim Moen, and Roger Hanley.

"I anticipate a second place finish in the conference behind a very strong Putnam City, and a big battle for first in All-City between Grant, John Marshall and Northeast," added Coach Faurot, who also added that with the strong five returning lettermen, the team should be improved over last year.

Applying the defensive skills of Mark McDaniels and the offensive skills of Dallas Latham they practice together for state competition. State contender Dallas Latham practices backhand for dual matches. Rifling curves across the court, Greg Faulkner is tough to beat.

Kelly Clark golf star, sizes up his putt. The toughest shot on a golf course is getting out of a sand trap which Scott Williamson performs commendably. Three year letterman Steve Smith practices his putting as he has an outstanding reputation for being best putter on the team.

Team depends on newcomers

"Lawrence Field should be the main influence of the team." This statement came from golf coach Harold Crosley, who commented also that although the team lost two players from graduation, "the new starters look promising."

Beginners Lawrence Field and Kelly Clark are among the promising newcomers. Lawrence placed third at the Junior World Championship held in San Diego, California, and Kelly was the runnerup in the all-city tournament. "The over all team should improve," Crosley added.

Last year the team took third in the southwest division. "But all the other schools lost many of their top prospects last year," Crosley added.

The team finished eighth of 26 teams at the Stillwater High Invitational Tournament.

Golfers include senior Steve Smith, juniors Rick Morales, Jim Brakebill, and Scott Williamson, and freshmen Sammy Kirby and Robert Camp.

With complete confidence Shelly Baker goes up for a lay-up as she is one of the top scorers for the Generals. Sally Black shows the perfect style, as she fields a hard hit grounder. Regina Eggleston and Sandra Parish practice the most crucial part of a relay where only ten yards are given to pass the baton. Volleyers practice for up-coming season.

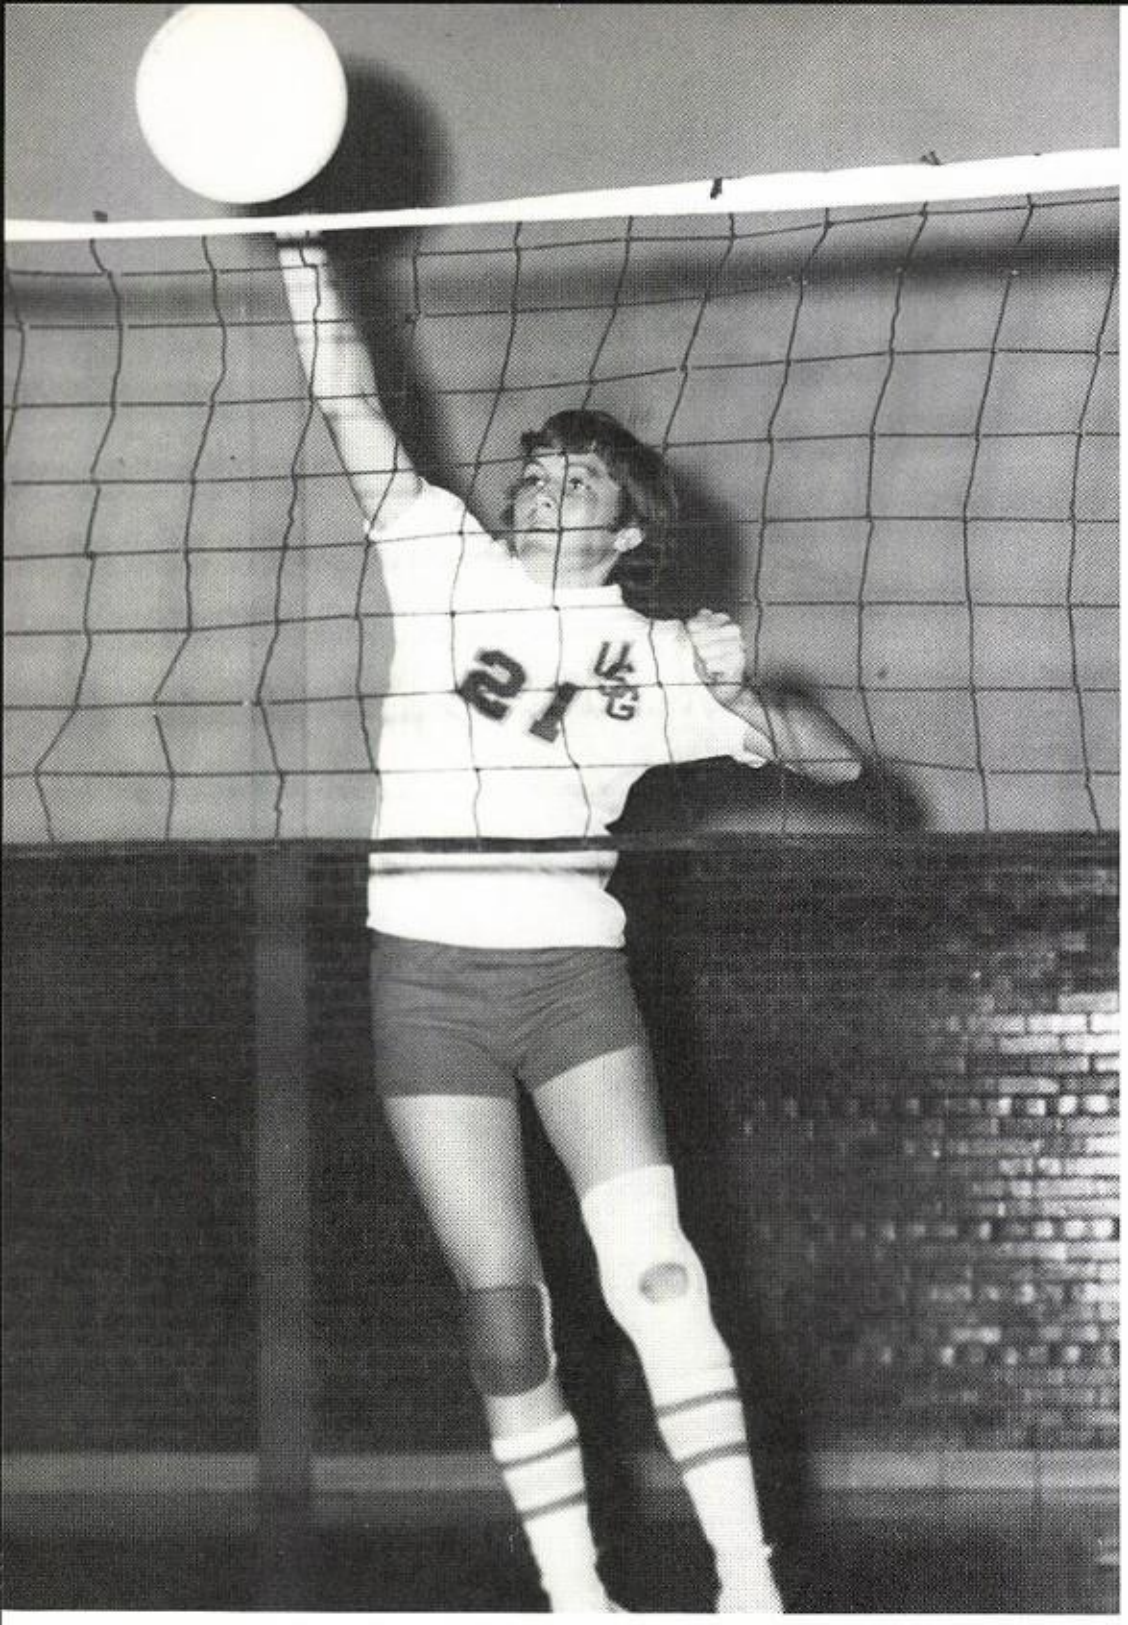
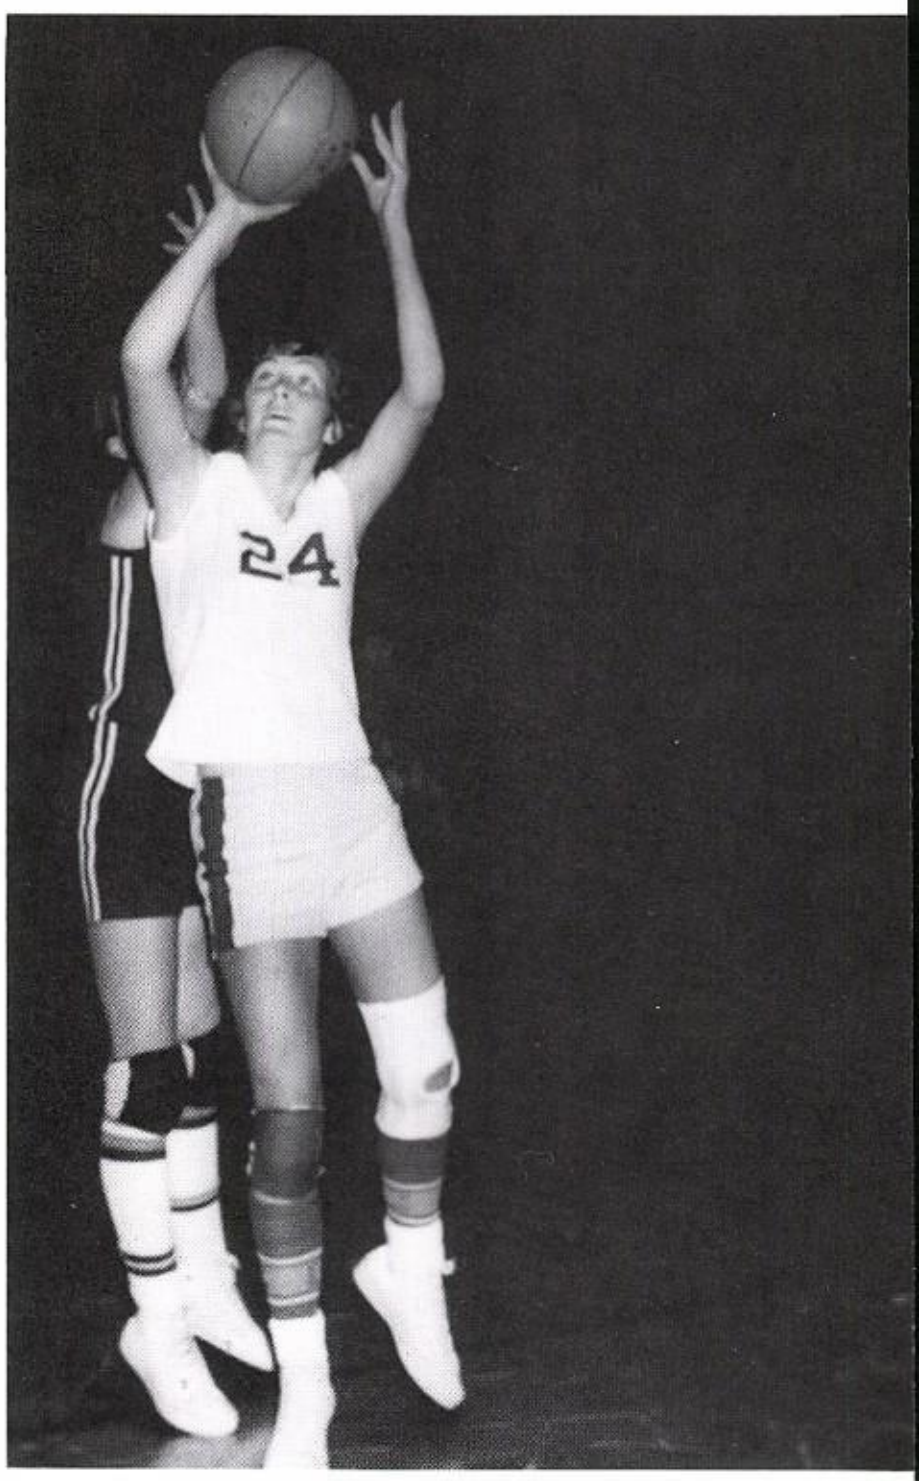
Girls' athletic program excels

The girls' sports program repeated last year's success with a good showing this year. Softball ended with a 7-1 season, defeating all contenders for All-City honors. Outstanding players included Gigi Baker, Shelley Baker, Sally Black, Tricia Diaz, Regina Eggleston, Kathryn Parton, Janice Payton, Denia Vinyard, and Teri Wooley.

Basketball began in late October with open school tryouts. With only one defeat on their record the "Lady Generals" began their season in class 3A for the first time, due to the change in the rules from full-court to half-court play. "It hasn't seemed to affect their play too much. We had the best record among all the city teams and were ranked eighth and tenth in the state during the first part of the season," added coach Connie Overstreet.





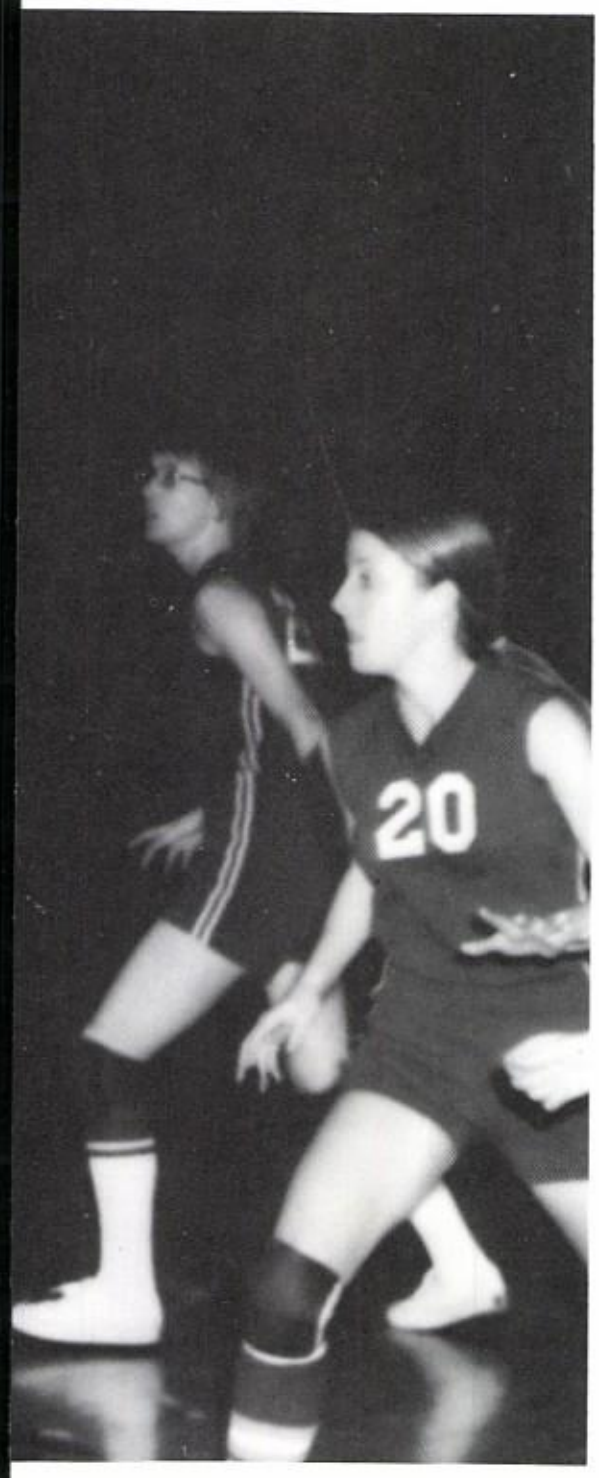
Individual girls capture spotlight

After basketball was over, immediately three other sports took over the girls' line-up. Table tennis, badminton and track took over and interested several girls in their activities.

Badminton as a rule is an individual sport, but several were involved in doubles play in two tournaments, one at OSU at Stillwater and one in Edmond. Returning netters included Kim Calame, Terrie Russell, Kathy Parton, Sally Black, Tricia Diaz, and Regina Eggleston.

In track the ladies attended several invitational meets. They defended the All-City title and saw a strong showing in low hurdles in senior Cindy Slayton and discus throwing in junior Sally Black.

Volleyball was postponed until the last part of the year due to the entry in basketball to state rules and competition.



Spiking the ball with perfect accuracy is Shirley Black who is the leading scorer for the Generals. Under tremendous pressure Shelly Baker sinks a 4 foot jumper. Trisha Diaz awaits a long jump for the rebound for a fast break.

Running two miles cross country, it is vital for the team to be in top physical condition. Loading up in their V.W. after a hard meet the Generals relax and are in deep thought about their past efforts. This is a familiar sight to cross country runners as they go through rough terrain. Running the football to Edmond wasn't easy as runners had to go in two-mile intervals. Dane Foley and Tom Cravens hold their trophies up after they placed in all-city.

Cross country scores with two

The cross country team placed two top runners in the state finals. Placing high in City, Mid-State, and Regional meets were Tom Craven and Dane Foley, and then placing at state were these same two seniors.

"The most improved runner this year was Alan Campbell. This was his first year on the team, and he really gave one hundred percent," added Coach Mike Barlow.

"We had some very real hardships this year," he added, "like regionals was held on November 2, the day that the flood damage did so much."

Coach Barlow concluded, "we have as top prospects for next year returners Jay Ball, Chris Ball, Larry Rappe, Larry Manuel and Scott Miller."

"Yesterday . . . All my troubles seemed so far away." This lyric seems to capture the mood of the men here. Dr. F. D. Moon resigned from the school board for health reasons. Governor David Boren thought he wanted the office of governor, but did he really fathom the responsibilities that he would encounter? President Gerald Ford was made president in a time of great national uproar, and he, too has the weight of the whole world on his shoulders. Representative John Jarman, after election by the Democrats, turns and becomes a Republican, claiming "liberalism in the House among other Democrats" as his reason, then the electorate was enraged at his "flagrant insensitivity to their needs."

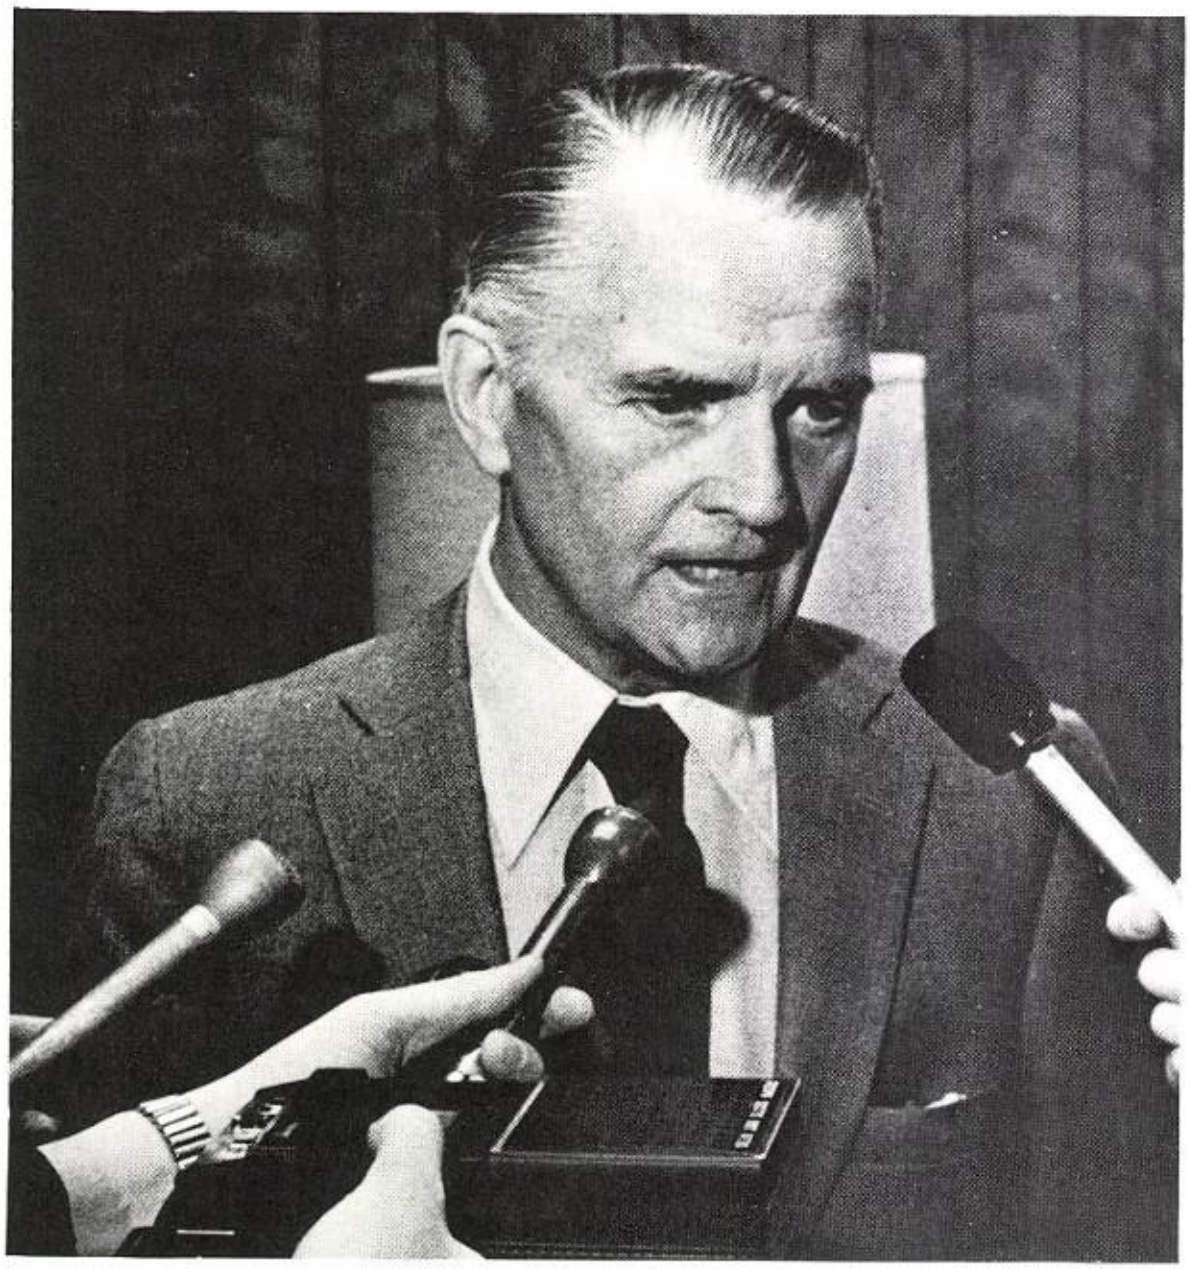
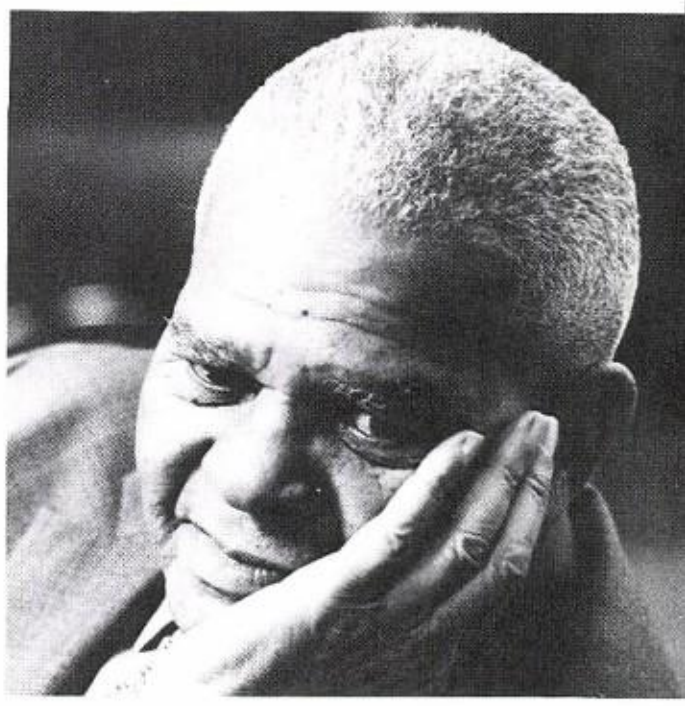
The troubles that these man have should tell us that with honor and glory also comes responsibility and heartache.

Governor, David Boren speaks after his inauguration. Dr. Herbert Krob, school board member, decided not to renew his term. President, Gerald Ford speaks in his engagement in Oklahoma City. Dr. F. D. Moon resigned from the school board due to health reasons. U.S. Representative John Jarman changes his political affiliation from Democratic to Republican.





YESTERDAY

"Today while the blossom still clings to the vine." Early in life are we who hold this opportunity to change and mold the future. We hold the key to all the future and whether or not the future holds promise is simply a matter of how much we care and what we do to help — George can't do it all!

The beginning of a new way of life for many — the freedom and independence of being out from under Mother's wings, the protection of a husband or wife — all new things in the lives of people. Today is the day to start something new. Why put it off until Tomorrow?

Craig Carter and Carol Mayo prepare for the end of their high school years together. Randy Kirkes files for workmen's compensation during his unemployment. Vanessa Walker discusses the search for a new superintendant with Mr. Diggs as her duty on the selection committee. Jeff Johnson curses the energy crisis as he runs out of gas. Dennis Goforth is pleasantly surprised at his tax return.

*"Tomorrow — things won't be the same." And who (this side of Jeanne Dixon) can tell us what tomorrow holds? We destine our own movements by our thoughts and actions and no matter how the influence that others put upon us affects us, we still have basic values that will remain with us all of our lives.

Tomorrow — we are the parents and grandparents of tomorrow, the Einsteins and Kissingers and even now we're the John Smiths and George Browns of tomorrow, the backbone of America. Even if we never achieve anything great, we can rest assured that something that we did at sometime made an impression on someone, therefore changing the course of the world. Even though we never cured the common cold, we have done something.

Mark Dixson prepares for tomorrow by finding out about the college of his choice. Suzanne Mabry prepares for tomorrow in making the most important day of her life. Erick Simpson works toward tomorrow in his capacity as grocery checker. Sherry Johnson works as a telephone solicitor.
